COL. ROOSEVELT STARTS FOR HOME

LEAVES CHICAGO FOR OYSTER BAY

Former President's Assailant Spends Most of Time Writing Poetry

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Col. Roosevelt left Mercy hospital at exactly 7.20 o'clock for the station, where he was to board a Pennsylvania railroad train for the journey home. He was taken out of the hospital on a wheel chair to an automobile ambulance. The colonel was accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt.

Col. Roosevelt's train, which was scheduled to leave Chicago at 8.15 a. m., did not pull out until 8.30. There had been a collision on the Burlington tracks at Fourteenth street adjoining the rails over which the Roosevelt train was to pass. One of the engineers of the trains that collided was reported killed.

When he was ready to depart the colonel said he was feeling well, but that because of his restlessness during the night he was somewhat sleepy, and hoped he would be able to get some rest after he had reached his berth. He was cheerful and expressed pleasure that he was soon to be on the way to his home at Oyster Bay.

Writes Poetry.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 21.—John Schrank, who attempted to kill Theodore Roosevelt, occupied his time the greater part of Sunday in writing and reading. None of the communications from Schrank's pen have thus far been given out despite the fact that various "inducements" have been offered to Sheriff Arnold to secure them. It is understood that considerable portions of Schrank's writings consist of poetry.

GIRL'S DEATH ACCIDENTAL.

Colborne, Ont., Oct. 21.—The inquest as to the death of Miss Lillian Olive Blain, of Barrie, whose body came ashore after being nearly 17 months in the water, was concluded before Coroner Latta, the verdict being one of accidental drowning. Harold A. E. Clarke, one of the Trinity college students in charge of the sailboat from which Miss Blain was drowned, was exonerated from blame.

STORES DESTROYED.

Hanley, Sask., Oct. 21.—Fire which did damage estimated at $50,000 broke out in the business district Saturday destroying several stores and the post office. Only a chemical engine and several willing helpers were on hand to check the flames.

MANUFACTURER DISAPPEARS.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 21.—William F. Cashin, a wealthy member of a local paper manufacturing firm, left his summer home on Long Island Sound last week in his sloop Cayuga for this city, where he intended to put the boat into winter quarters, but nothing has since been heard of either him or the boat. An Italian workman, whose name has not yet been learned, accompanied him. Members of the family say that Mr. Cashin had a considerable sum of money with him.

SON SHOOTS FATHER.

Denver, Col., Oct. 21.—Emil Howard Ross, jr., aged 20, shot and instantly killed his father, aged 44, at the family residence late Saturday. Young Ross and his stepmother were arrested. The youth says he shot his father because the latter abused his stepmother. He said he called to him to "cut it out." Then, according to the youth, the father came to the room where he was and struck him, saying, "I'll kill you." A revolver was hanging on the wall of the room and the son seized it and fired.

GREAT BRITAIN'S NEW DREADNOUGHT

Most Powerful of Type Now Afloat—The Marlborough Will Cost $13,000,000

London, Oct. 21.—The launching of the new battleship Marlborough this week is attracting much attention in naval and shipbuilding circles. The details concerning the new vessel have been kept rather dark, but it is known that she has been designed to show an increase in size, speed and fighting power over any ships of her type now afloat. She will be almost twice the size of the original Dreadnought, which displaced 17,500 tons. The cost of the Marlborough will be approximately $13,000,000. Her armor plating will be on an increased scale, and she will mount ten of the latest type of 13-inch 5-calibre guns.

MILITIA TO STOP BETTING.

Indianapolis, Oct. 21.—The South Bend Company of Indiana national guard was ordered to be ready to go to Mineral Springs to stop gambling, said to be going on at a race meet there. The order was issued by Mark Thistlethwaite, the governor's secretary, under authority wired by Gov. Marshall.

IMPALED ON IRON FENCE.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—C. F. Hutchinson, 81 O'Hara avenue, fell from the roof of a two-storey house and was impaled on an iron spike on a railing. He died almost instantly. He was shingling the house. The work was almost finished, when the scaffolding near the edge of the roof gave way.

STOCKHOLDERS CHARGE CONSPIRACY

CANADIANS FEAR THEY WILL LOSE MONEY

Suit Has Been Instituted in Superior Court at Los Angeles

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—About 700 Winnipeggers and 1,100 other Western Canadians claim through their representatives to be victims of a conspiracy which they are in danger of losing approximately $300,000.

Particulars concerning this alleged conspiracy are disclosed in a complaint made in the superior court of Los Angeles by S. W. Beattey, on behalf of himself and other stockholders in the United Canadian Oil Company, against William Moore, an ex-Winnipegger, J. R. Riggins, A. D. Nichols and George H. Cram.

Shareholders in Winnipeg will meet in the trades hall to-day.

It appears from the particulars submitted in the court referred to that the defendants induced all the shareholders in several oil companies, the stock of which was sold principally in the Canadian west, to exchange that stock for the stock of the Canadian Oil Company. They all did this with the exception of the defendants. The result that was 1,800 Canadians got stock in a company that had practically no assets but a lot of debts, and Moore, Riggins, Nichols and Cram, who retained stock in the old companies, got all the assets as stockholders in the original companies.

By this means the alleged conspirators have attempted to divert to their own use the property and assets secured by cash collected from Canadians under the impression that they were buying stock in companies with reasonably good prospects and under efficient management.

LETHBRIDGE POLICE FORCE RESIGNS

Chief Remains on Duty and Secures Services of Several New Men

Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 21.—The police force of Lethbridge resigned on the eve of Congress week. The members of the force protested against the appointment of Constable Skelton, of Toronto, as inspector, in preference to a local man, and threatened resignation unless the appointment was rescinded.

The mayor refused to accept the resignations, declaring the council would not be dictated to. There are a number of mounted men on hand, three new constables have already been sworn in, and it is understood that eight men of the Calgary force will be loaned temporarily.

Referring to the deadlock Saturday night, Chief of Police Davis declared he anticipated no difficulty in adequately protecting the city and keeping order during the rush of the dry farming congress. He had already secured eleven men for patrol duty, and as the nominal force is about nineteen men, the city will not be unguarded.

The disgruntled policemen quit at 6 o'clock last evening, leaving the chief the only man on duty.

TWENTY-FIVE INJURED.

Petaluma, Cal., Oct. 21.—A careful canvass of the town this morning shows that 25 persons were burned in the explosion yesterday on the main street of an automobile gasoline tank. With the exception of James Mott, all the injured, including Mayor Hartman, will recover. Mott received a blast of burning gasoline full in the face and inhaled flames. Everywhere comment is heard to-day on the heroism of the injured. Men burned bald and with the flesh hanging from their cheeks in shreds, walked to the hospital in order that the weaker or still more seriously hurt might be hurried there before them in automobiles and receive first treatment.

DRY FARMING CONGRESS OPENED

Raymond Farmer Winner of Championship Prize for Wheat

Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 21.—The seventh International Dry Farming Congress called for assembly at Lethbridge was opened by Lieut.-Governor Bulyea, of Alberta, to-day.

Delegates from all parts of Canada and the United States reported, with visiting delegates from the foreign countries, Brazil, Chile, Persia, Turkey, Russia, Mexico, and, in fact, from every part of the world. The popular idea of dry farming being interesting only to places semi-arid is thus refuted, and in referring to the matter to-day Dr. John A. Widtsoe, international president, pointed out that dry farming, aiming at the conservation of moisture for crop purposes, was of interest to every community where agriculture holds place.

The town is gaily illuminated and generously decorated. Special trains to-day brought parties from Saskatoon, Regina, Salt Lake City, Utah, Winnipeg and Montreal. As many of these special trains carry sleepers, the sleepers will be tracked near the grounds and used as accommodation during the week.

About 500 delegates have already arrived, but the greater number is expected during to-day and to-morrow.

A championship prize of a $2,500 farm engine for the best wheat grown under dry farming conditions was offered, and H. Holmes, of Raymond, Alta., secured the award in a close field. Attention was drawn to the fact that the eight judges who made the award were not confined to one country, but four were appointed from the United States and four from Canada, so that Holmes' honor is unanimous.

Hon. Martin Burrell, Dominion minister of agriculture, has arrived, and is taking a keen interest in the proceedings. Representatives are also present from each of the western provincial governments and from Australia and India.

Profesor Bedford, deputy minister of agriculture for Manitoba, referring to the extent of Western Canadian territory interested in dry farming, pointed out that a great section of Southern Manitoba, particularly around the Melita district, was dry and sandy, and that Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta and parts of British Columbia needed dry farming methods.

The exhibits shown in the exposition halls are of a standard much higher than usual. Manitoba has a great display of garden stuff and a range of apples popularly supposed ungrowable in the middle provinces. A working model elevator backs the exhibit. Professor Bedford is in charge.

Saskatchewan has a scenic centrepiece, with its waterfalls and generous side alcoves filled with healthy land products, superintended by H. N. Thompson.

Alberta's contribution is on a generous scale, with two excellent tableaus, emblematic of the farmer's advance and the rancher's retreat. E. L. Richardson is in charge for the Alberta government, and E. L. Brandreth for British Columiba.

The Dominion government and the United States department of agriculture have each erected separate buildings, which house handsome exhibits. Other exhibits include Arizona, Oklahoma, Idaho, Colorado (Inland Empire), Washington, Sacramento Valley and California.

Western Canadian farmers made a good showing when the first half of the prize list was published. In the first place, H. Holmes, of Raymond, Alta., captured the sweepstake prize open to the world for the best bushel of hard wheat, while out of 46 prize-winners and "favorably commented" in the wheat, barley and oats classes, over 40 were Canadian farmers.

The champion dry farmer, who is a Mormon, hailed originally from Utah, where, in the early days "they had to dry farm or quit farming." In 1900 he joined the trek to Southern Alberta, where he took up land, trying to farm it to the best of his ability on scientific lines. He contended with his neighbors against irrigation in favor of dry farming, and carried on his scientific methods, sending his son, Henry M. Holmes, to the Ontario Agricultural College. His prize wheat weighs 65½ lbs. to the bushel.

When the Holmes award was published a protest was immediately registered by F. W. Foster, of Pincher Creek, whose exhibit was grown on the farm of R. C. Hansen, Pincher Creek. Foster declares his wheat goes 68 lbs. to the bushel.

FRENCH AVIATOR KILLED.

Gust of Wind Capsizes Monoplane and Pilot Falls 500 Feet.

Bordeaux, France, Oct. 21.—A French aviator, Amedse Lacour, was killed yesterday while giving an exhibition of fancy flying at Mussidan. A heavy gust of wind overturned his monoplane and the aviator fell 500 feet.

C. P. R. CONDUCTOR KILLED.

Kamloops, B. C., Oct. 21.—While stepping down from the engine of his train, after giving the engineer his orders, Lawrence Mack, freight conductor on the C. P. R. here, was caught by the engine of No. 1 train, which was backing into the yard, and was instantly killed, his head being almost severed from the body. The accident occurred about 10 o'clock last night.

Mack was the son of James Mack, an engineer on the Westminster branch of the C. P. R. and both of his parents reside in the Royal City. He was unmarried.

ALBERTA PROBATION OFFICER.

Edmonton, Alta., Oct. 21.—Miss Mary Yeomans, of Belleville, Ontario, has been named as probation officer for Alberta.

WILL WORK IN CAUSE OF PEACE

STATEMENT BY NEW GERMAN AMBASSADOR

Says He Will Endeavor to Improve Relations With Great Britain

London, Oct. 21.—Herr Lichnowsky, the new German ambassador at London, has made another statement on the Anglo-German relations, following his recent article in the German newspaper, Nord Und Sud.

The ambassador is positively convinced that the tension between Great Britain and Germany is slackening, although he adds that there are several newspapers endeavoring to keep that tension alive.

Continuing, Herr Lichnowsky declares that his business in London will be to work for an understanding with the British government, and to prevent and obviate friction and ill-will between the people of the two great nations.

WINTRY WEATHER IN CANADIAN WEST

Twenty Degrees of Frost in Northern Alberta and Saskatchewan

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—The weather has taken on a wintry aspect in northern Alberta and Saskatchewan, with as much as twenty degrees of frost last night and heavy snows in some districts, while lighter snowfalls have been general all over Saskatchewan. Clear, bright weather has been maintained in Manitoba.

BALLOON EXPLODES—TWO MEN KILLED

Big Gas Bag Struck by Lightning When at Height of Three Miles

Berlin, Oct. 21.—The announcement of the death yesterday of Lieut. Hans Gericke, winner of last year's international balloon race in the United States and head of the team of German defenders in the races to be held from Stuttgart next Saturday, created a profound sensation here to-day. He was thrown from his balloon at a height of three miles by the explosion of the gas bag, which is believed to have been struck by lightning. His aide, Lieut. Steler, also was killed.

Gericke and Steler were making a test flight to test the balloon which they expected to use in the international races. Just above the town of Grossenheim they met a thunderstorm, which they attempted to avoid by rising above the disturbance. When a mile in the air the craft was caught in an eddy and became unmanageable. The recording apparatus showed they were riding at a height of 6,000 feet when they were suddenly hit by a verticle gust of wind which pushed them straight up with the violence of a hurricane to a height of more than 15,000 feet. At this altitude the bag burst, either from the sudden change in pressure or, as is more likely, from being struck by lightning.

The balloon embodied all the latest ideas in gas bag construction and was regarded throughout Germany as the likely winner of the international cup in next Saturday's contest. Gericke and Steler had expected to try for an altitude record in the course of yesterday's flight and had equipped their car with oxygen tanks and apparatus to assist them in enduring rarified atmosphere.

ARMIES OF ALLIES CROSS FRONTIER

THREE BIG BATTLES APPEAR IMMINENT

Bulgarian Forces Pressing Forward Toward Fortress of Adrianople

London, Oct. 21.—Three and perhaps four big battles probably will be begun within a few days, if not in a few hours, on the territory of European Turkey. The armies of the Balkan allies have now crossed the frontier on all sides, while the Turks, as their opponents advance, are giving up their frontier posts and abandoning small and unimportant towns, falling back slowly on to their strongly-entrenched positions, preparatory to giving battle there.

The Bulgarian army will, it is thought, be the first to strike because at its objective point the fortress of Adrianople, the main Turkish army is growing in strength. If the Bulgarians allow the Turks time the Sultan's army will outgrow that of the invaders.

It was rumored to-day that two of the outer forts of Adrianople had fallen into the Bulgarians' hands and that the town of Kirkilisseh had been captured, but there was no confirmation.

The Greek army is resting after its capture of the Turkish town of Elassona and preparing for the more strenuous task of attacking the Turkish army of 4,000 men concentrated at the town of Servia, a little to the north. The Greeks are said to be 60,000 strong.

The grimmest fighting of the war is likely to occur out of sight of the main armies, as some 3,000 Albanians are arming and Greek and Bulgarian bands have taken to the hills, where they will engage in guerilla warfare.

Warships Active.

The Turkish warships fired 100 rounds at Varna without effect, according to a Sofia dispatch to the Times. Two Bulgarian torpedo boats then issued from the harbor and engaged the Turkish squadron, one ship of which withdrew. It is believed she was struck by a torpedo but not seriously damaged.

Eventually the Turks proceeded to Baltchik, 25 miles to the north, where they indulged in another bombardment. They then returned to Varna, but kept at a respectful distance, apparently fearing mines.

At nightfall the Bulgarian torpedo boats came out again, but no engagement was reported. The Turkish squadron was at Varna on Sunday, but did not open fire.

Another dispatch to the Times says that a Bulgarian column from Koestendil captured Djumibala, Maomia and Bansko, in the Baslog district, without resistance. Several villages were burned by the retreating Turks.

Explosion Kills Soldiers.

The Seventh Regiment of the Servian infantry is reported to have been virtually exterminated by the explosion of Turkish land mines, after crossing the frontier into the district of Novipazar, according to a news agency dispatch from Belgrade.

A dispatch from Sofia to the Daily Mail says that prior to the capture of Djumibali by the Bulgarians, Colonel Chleneff committed suicide on the march because he had lost touch with the troops as they advanced.

Eleven Greek ships, including the large armored cruiser Georgio Averoff, are reported off the Turkish Island of Lemnos.

A Salonica dispatch, dated October 18, says a battle between Turks and Servians was in progress north of Pristina.

Red Cross Volunteers.

Dr. Steel, of Canada, is taking a party of Red Cross volunteers to the Balkans this week.

Powers May Protest.

Sofia, Oct. 21.—There is an unconfirmed report that the Turks have evacuated the outer line of fortifications around Adrianople.

Because of the proximity of the Turkish fleet, the government has ordered that the light of the Varna lighthouse be extinguished.

The newspapers say the Turkish bombardment of Varna was contrary to international law, and The Hague convention because the Black Sea is neutral water. They declare also that the Bulgarian government expects the powers to intervene.

The semi-official minister says the powers are negotiating to establish neutrality of the Black Sea.

Turkish warships bombarded to-day the Bulgarian fort of Kavarna. The customs house was destroyed and several shops and dwellings were damaged.

Kavarna is a Bulgarian town on the Black Sea, 28 miles north of Varna.

Turks Driven From Trenches.

Belgrade, Oct. 21.—A Servian column commanded by General Jaukovitch, captured the Turkish entranchments at the village of Podujevo, on the road to Pristina, during the night.

The Turks with their Arnaut auxiliaries retired toward the south, leaving their colors, several cases of ammunition, eighty oxen and a large quantity of ammunition.

Turkish prisoners taken by the Servians say there were no regular Turkish troops engaged. No details are given as to casualties.

C. N. R. SHOPS.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—Sir William Mackenzie to-day says the location of the main shops of the Canadian Northern railway has not yet been decided, but until the transcontinental line is completed the main shops will be at Winnipeg. Shops, however, are to be located wherever necessary at various places right across the system.

FUEL OIL FOR WARSHIPS.

London, Oct. 21.—The value of fuel oil for warships has now been fully recognized by the British Admiralty.

In orders issued on Saturday, the Admiralty declared its intention to more extensively apply oil to the British navy. Messrs. Vickers, Maxim & Co., have, therefore, been instructed to fit all vessels over 460 feet with oil engines.

ATTEMPT TO STIR UP HOLY WAR

ACTION OF BULGARIA'S KING CAUSES ANXIETY

Turkish Minister Fears Attack on Asiatic Provinces by One of Powers

London, Oct. 21.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Times says he has the highest authority for stating that disquieting information has reached the Porte concerning the sincerity of the powers.

"This," adds the correspondent, "intensifies the anxiety caused by King Ferdinand's appeal to religious sentiment at Italy. Amid the shadows of European intrigue, Turkey puts her faith in England alone to save her from treacherous manoeuvres."

An interview with Kiamil Pasha, president of the council, is sent by the Constantinople correspondent of the Chronicle.

Protesting against King Ferdinand's attempt to make a holy war of the struggle, Kiamil Pasha expressed fears of intervention by a certain power which he thought might attack Turkey's Asiatic provinces, now vulnerable because the troops have been drafted from there into European Turkey.

Kiamil Pasha said: "I am convinced that Europe's boasted humanity is dead. King Ferdinand's hand is only that of a puppet to strike at Turkey's heart. I hope that England will be true to her splendid past and stand by us unflinchingly in the approaching hour of national peril and prevent our being absolutely crushed.

"As an old man with one foot in the grave, I express with all seriousness the fear that the Balkan war will be the prelude of a gigantic struggle involving Europe."

SUFFRAGETTES PLAN TO DESTROY BALLOTS

Propose to Take Drastic Action During London Elections Next Month

London, Oct. 21.—According to a statement published in the Westminster Gazette to-day, the Pankhursts have announced their intention of effectively preventing any returns in the London elections next month. It is their determination to drop corrosives in all the ballot boxes, and thus render the election void. They are now organizing an army of supporters to help carry out their ingenious scheme.

AVIATOR INJURED.

Sydney, N. S. W., Oct. 21.—An aeroplane, in which Wizard Stone, an American aviator, was giving an exhibition at Ballarat, turned turtle after grazing a tree and striking a number of telegraph wires Sunday, with the result that Stone is suffering from a fractured collarbone and a slight concussion of the brain. His fall was witnessed by hundreds of terror-stricken persons. Doctors announce that his injuries, while serious are not necessarily fatal.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

Salem, Mass., Oct. 21.—The second week of the trial of Joseph Ettor, Arturo Giovannetti and Jose Caruso for the alleged murder of Anna Lopizzo began here to-day before Justice Quinn in the Superior court. District-Attorney Atwill was ready to hasten the commonwealth's side of the case to a conclusion.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 21.—William Green, C. P. R. conductor, living at Havelock, lost his life near Sharbot Lake on Saturday. He was standing on the rear platform of the caboose of his freight, which was stalled, when another freight crashed into it and Green was crushed to death.

RESIGNATION OF HON. F. D. MONK

FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT EXPECTED TO-MORROW

Henri Bourassa Arrives in Capital and Confers With Retiring Minister

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—The proclamation calling parliament together on Thursday, November 21, was issued to-day. A definite decision in favor of a November session was arrived at by the government on Saturday.

There have been a few developments in the political situation since Saturday.

Henri Bourassa arrived from Montreal on Saturday, and he had a conference with Hon. F. D. Monk. So far as can be ascertained, there will be no change in the course of immediate events as a result of the conference.

It is expected that the formal announcement of the retirement of Mr. Monk will be made on Tuesday, after Premier Borden has had an opportunity of conferring with the Duke of Connaught, who returns to the capital to-day.

When the name of Mr. Monk's successor will be announced is not known, but in the best-informed quarters it is believed it will not be delayed longer than a few days. The name of L. T. Marechal, K. C., Montreal, and Hon. T. Chase Casgrain, of the international waterways commission, continue to be mentioned, but Mr. Marechal would appear to be the favorite guess. There is still some speculation as to whether or not Hon. W. B. Nantel will resign. Mr. Nantel, who is not saying anything one way or the other, has gone to Joliette, Quebec, to attend the marriage of his daughter on Tuesday next.

Between now and November 21 the ministers will be busily engaged in preparing its sessional programme. It is expected that considerable business will be disposed of before Christmas. As soon as the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne is completed, it is expected that the government's temporary naval policy will be brought down.

The length of this debate will depend entirely on the nature of the proposals, but even should it be prolonged, opportunity will be found to introduce several important government bills, including the amendments to the Bank Act now in course of preparation.

Then the committees will be organized in readiness for work after the holiday, and many formal reports presented. So far as can be ascertained, the government has not yet definitely decided whether it will bring down the redistribution bill at the approaching session.

London View.

London, Oct. 21.—Discussing Mr. Monk's resignation the Pall Mall Gazette says it is noteworthy that the same was not based on a fundamental disagreement with the ministerial policy, but on his pledges as to not committing the Dominion upon naval questions without a general election. The absence of any greater difficulties with Quebec Conservatives is a striking proof of the extent by which Premier Borden is carrying Canada along with him.

ONE DEAD; TWO DYING.

Eureka, Cal., Oct. 21.—To avenge an affront to a woman yesterday, George Clark, of this city, shot and killed Mrs. Charles Baxter, mortally wounded her husband and then shot himself. He will die.

The tragedy took place at the quarry of the Hammond Engineering Company near here, when Baxter refused to apologize for having refused to allow Aileen Shaw, a waitress whom he had discharged, to enter the cookhouse where the Baxters were cooking. Clark demanded the apology and when Baxter refused, Clark drew a revolver and shot him through the body. Mrs. Baxter ran toward the door, but was dropped by a bullet and died in a few minutes.

HOPES BOYS WILL BE TAUGHT TO SHOOT

London's Lord Mayor Receives Trophies Won by England at Bisley

London, Oct. 21.—The Kolapore cup, the MacKinnon shield and other trophies won by England have been handed into the custody of the Lord Mayor. Colonel Freemantle said he hoped the British army would soon receive a fresh weapon which would be advantageous for shooting. The Lord Mayor said he hoped the time was approaching when every lad would be taught to shoot.

At Bisley on Saturday George Fulton, father of this year's King's prize man, and the Queen's prize man of 1888, made the highest possible at the 200 and 500 yard ranges, dropping one point at 600 yards range.

Nelson, B. C., Oct. 21.—News has reached the city of the death at Spokane of A. H. Buchanan, who was from 1892 to 1904 the manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal. He was one of the charter members of the Nelson board of trade and the news of his death was received with much regret by the old-timers of Nelson.

WILL BE TRIED ON CHARGE OF ARSON

Case of John Bradshaw to Be Heard at Assizes at Nelson

Nelson, B. C., Oct. 21.—Much interest centres in the assizes which opened here to-day before Mr. Justice Gregory. The docket includes one murder charge and one of arson.

The arson case is reminiscent of incendiary fires which caused so much alarm in Nelson and which resulted in the total destruction of the Hull Mines smelter, of the Yale Columbia Lumber Mills, of the Ranch stables and outbuildings and of two stores in the heart of the business centre, besides considerable damage to the Nelson Brewery and other stores and residences. The accused is John Bradshaw, who was twice previously arrested during the incendiary excitement, once nominally on the charge of vagrancy and once on the charge of arson. In both instances he was released. In this case he is charged with starting a fire in the bush close to a ranch. The chief evidence against him is expected to be a piece of candle found at the fire bearing marks similar to those made by police on candles found in his room when previously arrested, and the evidence of a woman who declared that she saw him near the fire and noticed that he had on him perfume similar to scent that was on his clothes and which was known to belong to Bradshaw. The defence will bring evidence to prove that Bradshaw has a double from whom he is indistinguishable and will attempt to prove that Bradshaw was not at the scene of the fire at the time. A reward of $2,500 was offered for the arrest of the Nelson incendiary and its disposal will be determined at the end of the trial.

In the murder case A. P. Balsom is accused of killing Caleb A. Barton, who three days before this murder had become proprietor of the Manhattan saloon. At the same time, John L. Letual, the cook of the saloon, was slain. The theory of the prosecution is that Balsom, who needed money for his wife at Christmas time, watched Barton and Letual go out and then attempted to rob the saloon and that he was surprised and killed them with a revolver.

H. H. Cleugh, a rancher at Castlegar, is charged with the attempted murder of G. M. Annable, a lumberman of Moose Jaw and brother of Mayor Annable, of this city. Cleugh and Annable had had business relations and a quarrel arose, and during the fracas a gun was seized by one or other of the men.

DEFENCE TRIES TO PROVE CONSPIRACY

State Witnesses Alleged to Have Made Threats Against Rosenthal

New York, Oct. 21.—"Bald Jack" Rose and "Bridgie" Webber, two of the state's witnesses in the trial of Lieut. Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, themselves made threats against the life of the gambler at least a month before the murder, it was testified on Saturday.

Webber, according to the testimony of Robert A. Smith, said: "I could cut Rosenthal's throat." Rose, according to another witness, said: "I want to have Rosenthal killed," and also declared after the murder: "On the memory of his dead mother," that Becker had nothing to do with the killing of the gambler.

The testimony was elicited by the defence in its efforts to prove that Becker is the victim of a conspiracy on the part of the four informers, Rose, Webber, Harry Vallon and Sam Scheppes.

Witnesses testified that the raid on Herman Rosenthal's gambling house on April 17, was made after evidence against it had been obtained by the police. The state charges the raid was a "fake."

Other witnesses, a police lieutenant and his wife, testified they had visited Becker at his home on the night of July 17, forty-eight hours after Rosenthal was killed, and that Becker was there from 10.40 until they left at 11.45. Jack Rose had testified that he was with Becker elsewhere during those hours.

Robert A. Smith, a contractor, who testified that Webber and Rose told him they wanted Rosenthal out of the way, was assailed by the state on cross-examination. Smith had testified on direct evidence that Rose told him on January 28 that if Jack Zelig had not got into trouble he, Rose, would have had Rosenthal killed a month before.

District-Attorney Whitman produced stipulations signed by the state with Jack Rose, "Bridgie" Webber, Harry Vallon and Sam Scheppes which were placed in evidence. The stipulations were produced on request of Becker's attorney, John F. McIntyre. They provide that if the four men would testify before the jury in the Rosenthal case, they should not be prosecuted "for gambling, extortion, or for any crime disclosed in the testimony they should give, provided they had not fired a shot into the body of Rosenthal.

Mr. Whitman also handed Mr. McIntyre the original draft of Rose's confession, written in jail. It was read and placed in evidence.

So far as the introduction of evidence is concerned, it is more than half finished. Mr. McIntyre said he would probably rest his case on Wednesday or Thursday.

WAVE OF HIGH PRICES SUBSIDING

President Taft Says Bumper Crops Responsible for Decrease

Beverly, Mass., Oct. 21.—In a statement issued here on Saturday based upon reports from Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson, President Taft declares the wave of high prices for food throughout the world has begun to subside in this country.

"The wave of extremely high prices for food throughout the civilized world," read the president's statement, "has reached its height in the United States, and is subsiding. The American people have cause to be thankful that because of our industrial prosperity it has not been attended here with the great hardship which has prevailed in some of the countries where high prices have combined with low wages to reduce the working people to a point bordering on starvation."

According to the announcement of White House officials, Secretary Wilson made an investigation of the causes, the prices and the effect of the bumper crops in the United States upon such prices. The great prosperity of the American farmer, the reports to the president showed, has brought about a material decrease in the cost of food products, although in many instances the reduction will not become apparent to the consumer for several months. The report promises that the price of meat will decrease, notably on account of the bumper corn crop, after cattle, sheep and hogs fed from the crop reach the consumer.

Secretary Wilson advised the president that of the nine great crops of the country—corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, potatoes, flaxseed and hay—the October first prices indicated a saving to the consumer of about 9 per cent., or nearly $500,000,000. The crops' increase will make up to farmers, however, reductions in price.

Mr. Wilson shows that while the return to the producer on October 1, 1911, amounted to $3,868,000,000 at the prices prevailing on October 1 of this year their return will be $4,454,000,000.

To be perfectly proportioned a man should weigh twenty-eight pounds for every foot of his height.

JACK JOHNSON RELEASED ON BAIL

Arraigned on Charge of Abduction—Case Will Be Heard October 29

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Charged with the abduction of a white girl, Jack Johnson, negro puglist, was arraigned in Municipal court yesterday. The case was continued until October 29, and Johnson released on bail of $800.

Johnson became furious when Attorney Erbstein, for Mrs. F. Cameron-Falconer, mother of the girl, demanded that his bond be increased. Judge Hopkins placed the bond at $1,500, the usual amount in abduction case. A professional bondsman posted cash for the negro.

Two agents of the government department of justice were present.

When the pugilist stopped his automobile in front of a downtown bank to-day such a large crowd gathered that the police were called to clear a path for his machine. Mutterings against the fighter were uttered by several white men, but there was no open demonstration. A few negroes cried: "Hurrah for Johnson."

Johnson paid no attention to the crowd but sped up his automobile and drove away quickly.

A mittumus ordering the detention of Lucille Cameron, whose mother swore out the warrant against Johnson, as a witness in the grand jury investigation against Johnson, was issued yesterday by United States Commissioner Foote on application of the district-attorney. She was held in $25,000 bonds. Miss Cameron will appear before Commissioner Foote on Tuesday and probably before the grand jury on the same day. She was questioned by government agents for two hours today, but refused to tell of her relations with Johnson.

A report that Johnson had visited the bank in attempt to obtain $25,000 to effect the girl's release on bonds caused federal officers to plan to take Miss Cameron to the jail at Rockford, Ills.

Soon after the necessary papers were obtained Miss Cameron was taken to Rockford by a deputy marshal.

SACRIFICES LIFE TO SAVE COMRADE

Miner Gives Up Place in Cage and Goes to His Death

Hobart, Tasmania, Oct. 21.—With the recovery of several of the miners rescued from the North Mount Lyell mine, comes a story of great heroism, a tale showing that the traditions of the British people were upheld during the mining disaster.

Included in the forty-two bodies which have been recovered was the remains of a hero, a young man named Jack Bolton, who gave up his life in order that Henry Irving, a married man, might be allowed to live.

According to the information gleaned from the fortunate man who was thus saved, Bolton had secured a place in the cage which was ready to be hauled to safety at the time that the disastrous fire broke out. Nevertheless he immediately gave up his place to Irving in order that the latter might be allowed to live to protect his wife and family.

When the search party stumbled across the hero's body, they found that he had lain down to die with his hands clasped behind his back, as calmly as if he had stretched himself in slumber rather than to wait for certain death.

King's Message of Sympathy.

Melbourne, Oct. 21.—King George has sent his sympathy to the relatives of the victims in the Mount Lyell mine disaster at North Lyell, Tasmania. The King expressed his deepest regret that so many lives were lost in spite of the efforts put forth on behalf of the entombed miners.

CHARGES OF CONSPIRACY.

More Witnesses Testify for Government at Trial at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 21.—Postal money orders that J. J. McNamara sent through the mails and which Ortie E. McManigal used on his dynamiting trips were produced at the dynamite conspiracy trial here on Saturday.

Robert H. Vryson, postmaster of Indianapolis, identified many money orders sent to McManigal and payable at the cities where explosions occurred.

The records showed transmission of money by McNamara to Frank O. Eckoff, Cincinnati. L. A. Noel, secretary-treasurer of a local ironworkers' union, testified that he knew McManigal when the latter was working on a building in Detroit in June, 1907. Noel said Herbert S. Hockin was living in Detroit at that time.

The delivery through the mail of a package which the government charges contained fuses used to blow up a building at Akron, Ohio, on July 4, 1910, was described by R. G. Floyd, postmaster at Cleveland, Ohio, who testified from records that a special delivery was made at the home of P. J. Smith, an iron worker, and a union official in Cleveland.

According to the government, H. S. Hockin and McManigal had taken to Cleveland from Rochester, Pa., on a passenger train a quantity of nitroglycerine to carry out orders from J. J. McNamara that "There must be a Fourth of July celebration at Akron."

McManigal, in his confession, said he had been selected to do the work, but that Smith and George Anderson, also a defendant, protested saying they had been promised the "fee" of $200 for doing it to someone else. It was discovered, said McManigal's confession, which he embodied as part of the prosecutor's charges, that only McManigal knew how to use nitroglycerine, so it was determined to use dynamite, but that there being no fuse, McManigal was sent to Chicago to forward the fuse from his own home.

ROOSEVELT'S PLAN TO CONTROL TRUSTS

REPLIES TO SPEECHES OF GOVERNOR WILSON

Outlines Scope of Work of Proposed Industrial Commission

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Col. Roosevelt, after a long conference on Saturday with Francis J. Heney, of San Francisco, made clear for the purpose of publication his attitude on the industrial commission with which he proposed the trust situation should be controlled in America.

His announcement, brought from the sick room by Mr. Heney, was in reply to writings of Louis Brandeis and speeches of Governor Wilson in which Mr. Roosevelt is accused of "endeavoring to legalize monopoly" by a commission "which would have police powers to say to a favored corporation, 'You are legal' and to an unfavored corporation, 'You are illegal.'"

"This is as near the antithesis of my position as any declaration well could be made," said Roosevelt.

"I explained in part my position in my Milwaukee speech when I said, in effect, that the idea I had was that there be passed new laws or that the Sherman anti-trust act should be amended in such a way that there would be a definition of what was wrong eliminating the 'rule of reason' feature; that it should be this commission which would have the power to 'sit in' on the company's books and business and still have the right to bring about obedience to the law when infractions were found.

"I am in favor of new laws for the amendment of the Sherman law to provide such supervision as is contained in the Lafollette-Lenroot amendments. I would provide in the statute provisions which said: 'This thing is wrong,' or 'That thing is wrong.' I would not have left to guess or judgment of any man or men the determination of what was wrong or right, or 'reasonably wrong' or 'reasonably right.'

"If, for instance, a corporation should be crushing out competition, I would have the statute say pointblank with no loophole for escape that the corporation was guilty.

"I would have the commission enforce the law much as the Interstate Commerce Commission enforces the railroad rate and rebate laws, with power to see that the statutes were obeyed.

"I would have the commission empowered to put men on the books of a corporation whose acts were questioned, so that the responsibility of that corporation and its methods of conducting business would be at all times within the view of those whose duty it is to enforce the law.

"I find I am accused of wanting to give the commission power to fix prices. I don't want now to provide that. I fancy the commission would be sufficiently busy for a time in effecting laws without wanting to concern itself with prices.

"Then I would provide this industrial commission with funds and power to put men on the books of the corporations so that the government would know whether the law was violated and the further power to compel corporations to observe the law.

"That would put corporations under as complete control as the railroad situation is to-day."

EXPRESS AGENT ATTACKED.

Knocked Unconscious by Robber, Who Secures Only $1,200.

Skagway, Alaska, Oct. 21.—Nearly $250,000 in gold in the Wells Fargo Express Company's office was missed by a robber who sand-bagged Agent Herbert Taylor on Friday night.

The thief got one express package containing $1,200, some of which is non-negotiable paper. Taylor went into a rear room to get coal for the stove in his office. A man who had been secreted in a closet struck Taylor on the head, and then began to ransack the office, but apparently took flight without completing his work. Taylor lay unconscious where he fell, and was discovered in that condition on Saturday morning. He will recover.

Exactly one year ago Friday night Agent Guptill of the Alaska S. S. Company, was assaulted in his office by a robber, who felled him with an axe.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Vancouver, Oct. 21.—A verdict of guilty with a strong recommendation to mercy was returned by the assize jury against J. P. Pollard, who had been arraigned on a charge of manslaughter arising out of the death of John Gould on the night of May 13 last.

Pollard, Gould and several others, including two girls, were coming in from Eburne to Vancouver. Just before reaching Wilson Road, Pollard took the steering wheel, which had been to that stage of the journey managed by Gould. The car turned turtle. Gould was killed, and several of the other occupants were injured.

GREEKS CAPTURE TURKISH POSITIONS

Sultan's Forces Dislodged After Sharp Fighting—Story of Ambush Denied

Athens, Oct. 21.—The Greek army, under command of Crown Prince Constantine, after four hours' fighting on Saturday, dislodged the Turks from strong positions commanding Elassona, near the Grecian frontier. The Greeks then occupied Elassona. Two battalions and two batteries crossed the Arta river into Epirus and occupied the heights of Grimbovo. Detachments of Cretans have arrived at Athens.

Prince Andre and Prince Christopher have gone to the front. Princess Marie will fit out a floating hospital at her own expense. The government has introduced a bill for the free entry of food during the war. The police have closed all the theatres.

Ambushed by Montenegrins.

Vienna, Oct. 21.—According to late advices from Podgoritza, 6,000 Turkish irregulars while proceeding from Plaxa to Berana to attempt the recapture of the city were ambushed by a strong detachment of Montenegrins. After a desperate fight, in which many of the irregulars were killed and the commander and 280 of his men were captured, the irregulars were routed.

Denial by Turkey.

Constantinople, Oct. 21.—The war office denies the Montenegrin report of the capture of six Turkish battalions and a large quantity of ammunition at Tushi. It admits, however, that Tushi has fallen.

Declare Reports Unfounded.

London, Oct. 21.—The Turkish legations deny indignantly all reports that Turkish army doctors are preparing to scatter disease germs. These denials are made in a reply to a dispatch received in London and vouched for by the Greek minister that Turkish doctors had gone to Janina, in the south of Albania, to the Bulgarian frontier, carrying with them typhus and cholera microbes.

ABOUT THE FRANCHISE.

The Colonist devotes several paragraphs to the explanation of the amendment to the Municipal Clauses Act governing the franchise of householders who have purchased under agreements of sale. Stripped of its euphemistic verbiage the explanation simply means that a man who has bought a house, paid perhaps half its value in cash and has registered the agreement by which he virtually owns the house, cannot vote unless he obtains a letter from the former owner granting him the right. The vendor of the house can prohibit the franchise of the man who literally owns property and pays taxes upon it. A bona fide owner has all the responsibilities of citizenship, but he has none of the rights of citizenship save by leave of the man from whom he bought the house in which he lives.

It is not difficult to see how this may work out, no matter how it might have been intended to work out. The original owner of the lot can block the franchise of the present owner by refusing to give him a transfer of the franchise. Even if a letter or certificate such as the law requires is given, there is no guarantee that it will transfer the franchise, because it is admitted that the civic officials have no instructions as to the keeping of records and do not know how to compile their lists. The end of it may be that a Beaver Club member who has sold a number of houses upon which new citizens have paid taxes and otherwise properly qualified to vote will see to it that no certificate of right to vote is given to any householder who will not pledge himself to vote the Beaver Club ticket at the next municipal election. He may not do this in a coarse or brutal manner, but the franchise of no man will be safe and, when an investigation as to how a man lost his vote is held, it will end just as the last civic investigation ended. There will be a report deploring the incongruity and ambiguity of the law, but it will be too late and there will not be found any son of man upon whom to fix the blame.

Had not the sinister effect of this new law been discovered in time to issue warning to those registering the municipal election next year would have been completely under the control of the Beaver Club, whose previous activities in the city have been only of a character to resolve the tax-paying citizenship into determination to end that rule.

The regular form of householder's declaration is the kind which should be used by all who register from now until the end of the month. If any think they are unsafe under the previous form of registration, they can make assurance doubly sure by making a fresh declaration. It is no fault of the citizens if the municipal registrars have to do double work. Make sure of your franchise.

THE B. C. ELECTRIC.

The British Columbia Electric Railway Company has issued a pamphlet giving a summary of its progress during the fifteen years it has been doing business in the province. The original capital of the company was $2,760,000, which has grown to $30,000,000. Its gross income has grown from $318,724 to $5,855,700. It now serves a population of 220,000, compared with the 50,000 of fifteen years ago. Two hundred and eighty miles of track carries its cars compared with the original mileage of 40, over which it carried 60,563,300 passengers annually. The company has seven hundred cars in service. It had only 50 in 1897. In the month of March of the present year the pay roll of the company amounted to $391,255.77, which probably was not the highest figure of the year. Whatever criticism may sometimes be levelled at the British Columbia Electric Company's methods, there can be no question that it has played a very important part in the development of the districts it serves on Vancouver Island and on the mainland.

EDUCATION IN QUEBEC.

The investigation instituted by a group of Protestant business men into the educational affairs of the province of Quebec has resulted in the disclosure of startling conditions. During the past two decades educational progress in the rural districts of the province has been at a standstill, and in many quarters actual retrogression has taken place.

The investigation showed that teachers in the province were miserably underpaid, that the number of pupils attending the schools had almost reached the vanishing point, that the school equipment was totally inadequate, and that the interest taken in educational work by the farmers was almost a negligible quantity. The investigation showed that there are 900 Protestant rural schools in this province; of these, 30 have 5 pupils or less, 120 have between 5 and 10 pupils, 235 have 10 to 15 and 435 an average of 12 pupils. Forty of the schools are open only four months of the year, 45 for five months, 300 for six months and 330 from eight to ten months. The salaries paid the teachers are ridiculously low, laboring men and even washing women receiving more pay than those who are supposed to educate the youth of the province.

In addition to being underpaid, a large proportion of the teachers are unqualified. Of the 900 engaged in the work last year, 325 were unqualified and 67 were given permits, thus almost 50 per cent. were either unqualified or teaching under a special permit.

In addition to the teachers being incompetent and under-paid, the schools are often unsanitary and without any equipment to aid teachers in their work. Further, the parents of the children take little or no interest in educational work, and the result is general apathy, which is deadening. It naturally follows that children who receive little or no elementary education will not take up secondary education. It is also found that the parents who are so indifferent to the needs of their children in educational matters, are themselves indifferent to the means provided for their own educational advancement.

These conditions exist alike in Protestant and Roman Catholic communities and the business men of both religious creeds are awakening to the seriousness of the problem which must be faced if the future is not to show a marked incapacity for successful business and other activities of life among the youth of that province. The Protestant pupils of Quebec schools who have hitherto evidenced some advantage because of their superior educational equipment seem now in danger of allowing their creditable position to slip away, and the peril of this prospect generally has aroused public opinion to a hopeful degree.

The government of Sir Lomer Gouin has manifested a disposition to retrieve the situation. While in 1896 the government grants to municipalities for educational purposes was 5 per cent., the appropriations this year are 20 per cent., and the promise of 25 per cent. is made for next year.

While the government is doing what it can to stimulate interest in the efficiency of the schools by increasing the remuneration of teachers, what appears most needful is a thorough awakening of the public mind. If the province of Quebec is to keep pace with the progress elsewhere manifest throughout Canada, it will be necessary for those who have the ear of the people to adopt measures which will bring before the minds of the habitants the terrible consequences of neglected education. There are not wanting signs that this is being done.

CREDIT FOR BREAKWATER.

Credit for the origination of the breakwater scheme seems to worry the morning paper when that credit is given to the Liberal government. What is singular about the contention of the chief government organ is that, after half a column of spurious argument to show that there was no correspondence with the Liberal government and no data available before the Borden regime, the Colonist says, "In passing it may be observed that the breakwater which the Liberal candidate favored was not the work that is to be constructed." As to the available data, there was published in the Victoria Daily Times of September 14, 1911, a plan of the breakwater submitted by Mr. T. C. Sorby, C. E. This plan had been in existence for many months and had been submitted to the government with practically complete data as to soundings and suggested constructive material. This is the plan upon which the Borden government is now proceeding, and for the Colonist to say that there was no data in hand when the Borden government came into power is to add another to its already long list of deliberate misrepresentations of facts. It seems impossible to force the Colonist to tell or admit the truth unless a falsehood cannot be made to serve an equal purpose.

The chief government organ said yesterday: "Thomas P. Barnum once said: It's not what you give the public that counts, but what you tell them you are going to give them, and what you tell them you have given them." We have often wondered where Sir Richard McBride learned his art, but the secret is out.

WILL ACQUIRE THE VICTORIA & SIDNEY

CANADIAN NORTHERN AND FERRY SERVICE

Will Operate Between Sidney and Steveston — Arrangement Recently Negotiated

It is understood that the Canadian Northern Railway has, with the approval of the provincial government, decided to adopt a point on Woodward's Slough, four miles above Steveston and Sidney, sixteen miles from Victoria, as the termini of the proposed car ferry service between the mainland and the island. This will result in the abandonment of English Bluff as the coast terminal as stipulated in the original agreement between the government and the railway company.

The new arrangement was negotiated during Sir Donald Mann's recent visit to Victoria. The C. N. R., it is also understood, expects to acquire ownership or running rights over the Great Northern branch on Vancouver Island, extending from Sidney to Victoria and known as the Victoria & Sidney Railway. The Great Northern at present operates a car ferry service between Port Guichon on the Fraser above Steveston, and Sidney. All C. N. R. freight coming from or bound for Vancouver Island will be handled over the new route.

The latter company some time ago acquired land for terminals at Woodward's Slough, which is better protected from the winter winds than the more exposed port of Steveston.

Rainproof Coats From $6.75 Up to $65

GIVES a sufficiently wide margin in price to come within the reach of every woman in Victoria, and it will have to be a very unusual case if we fail to give a perfect fit at a price that will please. We have absolute confidence in the quality of the garments and even the lower priced lines are garments that you can depend on giving perfect satisfaction.

AT $6.75 there are some excellent Coats in colors fawn and brown. All are rubber lined, the pockets are well made, and the sleeves are the sewn-in style. Almost all sizes are to be had and they are a rare value for the money.

AT $12.50 we have rubber lined coats in fawns and browns. These are made with the Raglan sleeves, are a good heavy quality, are well fitting garments and finished with neat roll collars that fasten close to the neck.

AT $15.00 there are some very superior garments to choose from. Various shades of browns and fawns are to be had and the garments are made with the Raglan sleeves. The makers guarantee all seams to be well sewn and will not come asunder and that the garments are absolutely waterproof. This line is an excellent investment.

STYLISH AND SERVICEABLE COATS in silk finishes, and corduroys, lined with rubber are to be had and they embody all the good features that it is possible to crowd into high grade coats. Some of them are finished with velvet collars and others have very large collars richly finished in silk. Blacks, blues and fawns are the chief colors, and women wishing a really smart, exclusive and serviceable coat will do well to investigate these lines. Prices from $50 to $65.00

CRAVENETTE AND TWEED EFFECTS in Rain Coats are very popular and here is a big assortment to choose from. They include a full range of sizes and although designed to be serviceable above all other qualities, they are really smart and pleasing in appearance. There are plain fawns, greys, tans and browns, also a fine showing of tweed mixtures to choose from. They have the two-way collar that may be fastened close to the neck when necessary, Raglan or set-in sleeves, patch or side slit pockets, and the cuffs are finished in the turn-back style, plain, or with a short tab. Prices start as low as $17.50 and range up to $40.00

A Range of Women's Winter Street Coats That Will Satisfy All Demands

IS now to be seen in our showrooms on the first floor. The fact is that there are at least 2000 Coats to choose from and there are still more on their way to this store. Here is a brief description of some of the lines, but women who have still their winter coat to buy will find a visit to this department both interesting and instructive in the latest tendencies in fashion.

$12.50 COATS are the best of their kind on the market. We have a few that we can sell at $11.75 but there are not sufficient to make a complete line. These garments are made of cheviots and tweed effects and come in blues, fawns and greys. All are finished with wide reverees and neat collars, have side pockets, and most of them have turn-back cuffs. All sizes are to be had and they present a very pleasing appearance.

AT $13.75 we have a smart line of coats made of good tweeds, and the colors are blues, browns and red browns. The collars are very smartly shaped and are finished in a contrasting material and button trimmings.

AT $15.00 AND $16.75 there are plain colors and tweed mixtures to choose from. They are made with the new roll collar, with wide lapel, effects that can be fastened loose up to the throat. The pockets are chiefly the patch style, and there are both the straight cut and the jaunty backs to choose from. They are a really serviceable, snug and comfortable line of coats that deserve close attention.

FINE VALUES AT $7.50, $18.75 AND $20.00 are now to be seen, and we believe them to be the most stylish and best made garments that can be produced at the price. The new and popular Chinchilla cloth, double woven faced cloths, substantial tweeds, blanket cloths and black broad cloths are well represented. Most of them have reversible collars and turn-back cuffs, and you can choose between light coats for street wear and heavy garments for driving or motoring. Right up-to-date in style and made to fit comfortably, they should please even the most exacting woman.

VERY FASHIONABLE COATS are marked at $22.50, $25.00 and $27.50, and they are proving to be the most popular lines in our stock. This is due to their smart appearance, their good materials and excellent tailoring. Full length, three-quarter length and the seven-eighth effects are well represented. They can be worn buttoned close to the neck or open, as occasion demands. Belted and polo styles are here in Chinchilla cloth, zebeline, tweeds, blanket cloths, and black broadcloths.

BETTER LINES are marked at $30.00, $32.50, $35.00, $37.50, $40.00, $42.50, $45.00, $50.00 and $65.00, and they are well worth the price.

NOVELTY COATS are to be had in various lengths and there are some exceptionally fine three-quarter coats, lined throughout with satin, to choose from if you desire them. Smart and dressy walking coats in all the newest materials and colors, come in such a huge variety that they baffle description. These coats are included in the prices quoted above.

FUR LINED COATS—We are proud of this showing, and those who inspect the garments will appreciate the reasons why we think so much of them. They come in beautiful tweed effects and plain broadcloths, are full length, finished with stitching, and smartly tailored. The linings include opussum, squirrel and marten. Fasten close to the neck and there are no two coats alike in the showing. Prices $75.00 up to $175.00

One of the Things a Boy Calls "The Limit"

IS HAVING to go to school wearing a suit that has become too small for him. The fact that he has grown so quickly has it a hard job for his trousers to reach the knees, and when his coat sleeve gets the habit of creeping too high up his arms, the boy becomes disgusted and calls it "the limit."

Certainly it is the limit of all limits to keep time with a growing boy's demands for clothes, at least most parents find this to be the case, but you can't expect the lad to have much self-respect if his clothes put him out of standing with his fellows.

Here's an offer that should find a hearty welcome in many a home where this problem is being faced. A new shipment of sturdy double-breasted and Norfolk suits made of tough tweeds has just been unpacked. They are tailored in a manner that will stand all kinds of rough and ready wear and have a really smart appearance into the bargain. Browns, greys, fawns and greens are the colors and there is quite a nice assortment of new patterns to choose from. Bannockburn mixtures is another noteworthy class of materials in which these suits are to be had, and the parents who examine them will easily see where their profit comes in.

Prices range from $3.75 to $6.75
All sizes are to be had.

Reefer Coats That Will Please the Boys

AND GIVE THE PARENTS PERFECT SATISFACTION

HERE is one of the finest assortments that you have ever seen, and parents who are looking for a warm and comfortable coat for their boys will find that this line spells economy. Navy blue serges, red flannels, also fancy worsteds, whipcords and smart tweed effects in colors brown, fawns, greys, and greens are here to choose from. Some of them are trimmed with brass buttons and others are perfectly plain. Many of the collars are finished with velvet and others are made of the same material as the rest of the coat. All are thoroughly well tailored and trimmed and will stand very hard wear.

The sizes are for boys from 2 years old to 8 years, so if your boys are between those ages, they are sure of getting a good fit. We invite your inspection. Prics start as low as $2.75 and range according to size and quality, up to $8.00

If You Want a Fine Parlor Clock

Buy it on Tuesday at the Spencer Store

OUR new shipment of Clocks has just been opened up. They are certainly a dandy line and the prices are Spencer prices. They are all made by the celebrated clock people, the Gilbert Clock Company, of Chicago, and are all warranted timepieces.

See our assortment of hanging spring and regulator wall clocks for stores, banks, offices and schools, priced from $6.50, $6.75, and $6.90, are accurate and reliable timekeepers.

We have two big value lines in Alarm Clocks.

The Empire is a beauty, made of seamless brass, heavily nickelled, finished with strong carrying handle and button, cut off or top of clock, 3¾in. bell, metal gong and 30-hour movement. Intermittent or long, continuous alarm movement, is a reliable clock and is specially low priced at $1.90

We have other lines of Alarm Clocks up from $1.00 and $1.25

DAVID SPENCER LTD.

IT IS A SHAME TO BELITTLE THESE

Suits for Men

BY MARKING THEM SO LOW

But we have an enormous stock on hand and being pinched for storage space, we have marked them lower than usual to make a rapid clearance.

Judging by the call for this line, the men of Victoria are appreciating this chance to get a really smart and serviceable suit at a price that is away too low, especially so early in the season.

WHAT WE ARE OFFERING FOR $10

Should not be sold for less than $15.00. They are made of sturdy tweeds and come in dark greys, greens, browns and smart heather mixtures.

Some of them are in the double, and others in the single breasted style, and both the sack and the semi-fitting cuts are well represented. All are three-buttoned style and have semi-pegtop pants.

All sizes are here, and if you have still your winter business suit to buy, inspect these lines and you'll be satisfied that they are an unusually good value for the money. Only $10.00.

Speak on Mission Work.—Next Thursday morning Dr. Grant, superintendent of Presbyterian home missions, and Dr. McKenzie, who has been a mission worker in China for the last 23 years, will arrive in Victoria from Toronto, and on Thursday evening will speak at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church about mission work, both at home and abroad. This meeting will be the first of a long series which these well-known divines will hold throughout the Dominion, their itinerary to include all the principal cities between here and Montreal. The meeting on Thursday evening will, therefore, be unusually interesting, and it is hoped that a good audience will be present at this inaugural number of the series.

Young People's Branch W. C. T. U.—On Thursday evening last Mrs. Bromley-Jubb again opened her doors with hearty welcome to the members of the above association, when the final arrangements were made for the coming Hallowe'en festival which is to take place Saturday evening in the Alexandra Club. Miss Bromley-Jubb presided over the meeting. Among those present were Miss Bradshaw, the new secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who gave a few most encouraging words and was ready to respond in a helpful manner to any suggestion put to the meeting; Mrs. Williscroft (hon. president of the branch), and Mrs. McDonald, whom the members were delighted to welcome among them once again. Five new members joined and all are anticipating a very successful evening on the Saturday when Hallowe'en will be celebrated. Mrs. Spofford will open the festival and among those taking part will be Miss Josie Beek, Miss Kate Ede, Miss Gladys Steinmetz, Mrs. Addison, Miss Vera Hughes, Miss Morrison, Mr. Underhill, Mr. J. O. Dunford, Mr. Francis, Mr. Dilworth, Mr. Hughes and the Metropolitan Male Quartette.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, Thursday, October 20, 1887.

Provincial officers Langley and C. J. Miller brought an Indian prisoner to the city this morning charged with cutting timber valued at $50 on the land of Capt. McCallum. We understand that justices of the peace refused to hear the case. It will be brought before the S. M. to-morrow.

The first train over the Seattle, Lake Shore, and Eastern Railway made a trip last Monday for a distance of twenty miles out of Seattle as far as Squak district.

In giving judgment in the case of the City of Victoria against Mrs. Haynes, to-day, Magistrate Johnson said: "I very much regret that this proceeding should fail; for it is important to prevent the perpetuation of wooden buildings within the fire limits. Ownership of the building is not proved.

The steamer Great Eastern has been sold at auction for $105,000.

Hanlan, the oarsman, is suffering from a carbuncle on the wrist, and his match with Beach will probably be postponed until later in the year.

Word was received this morning by Dr. Helmcken that Capt. L. M. Starr, a well known pioneer and navigator, died yesterday at Oakland, Cal. He resided here for some years, occupying the residence in which Hon. R. Dunsmuir now resides.

Mr. J. L. Beckwith returned to the city last night from an extended trip to the east.

A Noted Eagle to Visit.—Frank Dowd, secretary of Seattle Aerie, No. 1, and party, will visit Victoria Aerie, No. 12, on Wednesday. The local order will tender Mr. Dowd a reception, on arrival, and in the evening a social and dance will be held to which all members and their wives and friends are cordially invited.

Social Service League.—The regular meeting will be held to-night in the Unitarian hall, 1239 Government street at 8 o'clock. A hearty invitation is extended to all to attend the meeting. This organization, non-sectarian and non-political, is, as its name implies, a league of social service, and has been formed to meet the social and other needs of strangers and others in the city who are not definitely connected with other organizations.

Madame Gadski.—On Friday evening, November 8, Madame Johanna Gadski will appear at the Victoria theatre under the auspices of the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club, continuing her triumphs here with the applause of European, American and Canadian audiences still ringing in her ears. Fame has crowned Madame Gadski in her grand opera roles, her rendition of German folks lieder, and her artistic singing of English songs. Stepping for a while from the pinnacle of grand opera achievements Madame Gadski attains such heights of artistry on the concert stage as to win the undisputed title, "Queen of lyric and dramatic song." With voice liquid in its golden glory, rare charm of face and figure, and exquisite gowns and jewels, Madame Gadski leaves a lasting impression on all who are fortunate enough to be among her audiences.

CLOSING OF PAVING.

No More Contracts Will Be Let This Year—Quadra Street Hill Near Ellison Orchards.

It is the intention to rush to completion all the unfinished paving work before the rainy season sets in. For that purpose the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company are anxious to get possession of the Gorge road, so that the work may be undertaken. On Douglas street it is intended to complete enough to give the public a passage way to the city boundary, and to open the street once more to car traffic.

The coincidence with the paving of Douglas street, of the improvement of Quadra street, just outside of the city boundary, where the Saanich municipal council is having the hill blown out to lower the grade at a very steep place, has cut off the two principal means of exit from the city on the north. It will be at least a month before the rock blown out has been removed, and a permanent grade given to the roadway. A temporary way for vehicles has been found round it, but it is dangerous, and can only be regarded as a temporary expedient.

Fairfield road and Pandora street will not be reached this year, and no more work is to be opened, both on account of the late season and the shortage of funds.

SECOND UNIT OPERATED.

B. C. Electric Company's Plant at Jordan River Doubled in Capacity Saturday Night.

On Saturday night the B. C. Electric Company put into operation the second unit of its power plant at Jordan river. There is now 12,000 horse power being operated for the electrical supply of the city and vicinity. The company proposes to establish double this horse power. When the Tod Inlet plant is completed it will add another 6,000 horse power to the company's resources.

Officials of the company say that the demand for electric power in Victoria has increased 300 per cent. in twelve months, and that the increase is likely to continue. The cost of the Jordan river second unit plant to date is $550,000, and $400,000 has been spent on the Tod Inlet plant.

The increase in the facilities of the company's plant is caused by the demand for power. The original Jordan river plant was designed for 12,000 horse power. The extra cost for extensions now determined on will bring the cost of the entire plant to $3,000,000.

MANY EXCELLENT POSITIONS OPEN

Many good positions are open to young men and young women in the field of "Wireless" and of commercial telegraph service. The passage of the new United States law, effective October 1, compelling all sea-going vessels to be equipped with wireless instruments and manned by two competent operators, has created a wide demand for operators in the marine wireless service. Laws now require railways to use more operators than ever before. The Morse Telegraph Company, of Seattle and Portland, works in close connection with wireless and commercial officials, and can place graduates in good positions. It will pay you to write for full particulars.—Adv.

KEEMUN WILL BE ONE WEEK LATE ARRIVING

Blue Funnel Liner Not Expected in Until Next Thursday —Protesilaus Gone

Strikes among the dockers at different British ports have been the cause of delaying another of the Blue Funnel liners. Word has just been received here stating that the steamship Keemun, Capt. Conrad, which is scheduled to dock here at the end of this week, will not be along until Thursday, October 31. She did not sail from Yokohama until Thursday of last week, and it is not expected that she will make the trans-Pacific passage under 14 days owing to heavy weather, which is now prevalent on the peaceful ocean.

The Keemun left Liverpool about nine days late, but during her run through to Yokohama she picked up two days by omitting several calls. The Keemun is bringing a big cargo to this port and has a silk cargo valued at $750,000. The Holt steamships are at present securing a big share of the silk trade and each incoming vessel has its strongroom filled to its capacity. The cargo for Victoria amounts to close on 2,000 tons, while for Vancouver and Sound ports she has about 7,000 tons.

Protesilaus Rushed Here.

The big steamship Protesilaus, Capt. Milhench, also of the Blue Funnel fleet, was given quick dispatch here by the Victoria and Vancouver Stevedoring Company. Gangs of longshoremen started to work on the vessel yesterday morning at 7 o'clock to load 1,500 barrels of whale oil and 3,000 cases of salmon and within 20 hours all the freight had been stowed in the liner's holds and she left at 4 o'clock this morning for Seattle and Tacoma to finish loading for the United Kingdom.

The Protesilaus is scheduled to sail for Liverpool on Wednesday of next week. Although she was a week late arriving here and delayed by strikes at Tacoma and Vancouver it is expected that she will get away on time.

WIND BLOWING HERE FELT ALONG COAST

Triangle Reports S. E. Hurricane—Bad Off Tatoosh and Columbia River

Victoria to-day is experiencing another heavy blow, but it is nothing in comparison with the weather which is prevailing off the west coast of Vancouver Island. The strong winds of the last few days are a sure sign of the approach of winter weather. The storm is being felt almost as far south as San Francisco, and coastwise shipping is being seriously menaced. No disasters have as yet been reported, although several ships arriving have reported trying experiences.

Last night the wind blew strongly from the northwest, but early this morning hauled around to the southeast. When the wind shifted a nasty sea worked up in the straits and the new sea walls at Ross Bay and Dallas road were given their first test. All along the shore clouds of spray were being thrown into the air as the huge rollers broke on the rocks.

At Tatoosh the wind attained a velocity of close on to 40 miles an hour last night, but dropped slightly during the day. A wireless report from Triangle Island reported a southeast hurricane prevailing. This is the first bad weather the lonely men on the northern island have reported so far this fall. No doubt from now on the lighthouse keepers and wireless operators will have to put up with some nasty weather.

Delaying Alexandria.

It is believed that the heavy weather is delaying the arrival of the big Kosmos liner Alexandria, which was expected to arrive here about noon today. She was not reported passing in at Tatoosh at noon, and it may be early to-morrow morning before she puts in an appearance here. Heavy seas are reported off the coast and the entrance to the Columbia river is bad.

HOLT BUYS TWO VESSELS ON STOCKS AT DUMBARTON

Two steamers building by A. McMillan & Sons, Dumbarton, to the order of I. B. Pearson & Co., Glasgow, have bene sold to Lamport & Holt, Liverpool, for about £75,000 each. They are each to have a deadweight carrying capacity of 9,400 tons on a draught of 25 feet 1 inch, dimensions 415 feet by 56 feet by 30 feet 9 inches, and to be fitted with triple expansion engines by D. Rowan & Co., 27 in., 44 in., and 73 in., by 48-inch stroke, with three boilers 16 feet 6 inches, by 11 feet 9 inches, and 180 pounds pressure, to give the vessels a speed of 10½ knots loaded. The steamers are to be ready at the end of the year.

As showing the appreciation that has taken place in the value of these steamers it may be mentioned that two similar vessels were sold at the end of last year, one realizing about £54,500 in October, and the other about £60,000 in November.

TRAWLER SAILING NORTH TO-MORROW

TRIUMPH MAKING FIRST CRUISE TO BEHRING SEA

Canada Will Follow Later—First Trip Will Be Watched With Interest

First of the new steam trawlers, which arrived here recently from Grimsby to fish for the B. C. Fisheries, Ltd., to leave here for the northern fishing banks, the Triumph, it is expected, will sail from this port tomorrow morning. Capt. Hines, who is employed by the company as master of the tug Falchom, will pilot the vessel north, and Capt. Quin, who came out on the craft from England, will act as fishing master, and after making a few trips to the banks with the pilot will take command of the Triumph.

On her first fishing cruise from Allford Bay, the headquarters of the company, the Triumph will proceed into the Behring Sea and will fish for halibut and cod. She will make trips lasting in duration from two to three weeks. The fish is to be shipped through to the east in ice.

It is not expected that the Canada, the smaller of the two trawlers, will leave here for a short time yet. It is likely that Capt Hines will return to take the Canada north after he has given Capt. Quin a few pointers in the navigation of northern waters. The Canada will not make such long trips as the Triumph, and will probably not be out from Allford Bay much longer than three or four days.

The first trip of the Triumph to the fishing banks in Behring Sea will be watched with much interest by not only shipping men on this coast, but also by those who are taking an interest in the development of the fishing industry in British Columbia waters. The waters in which the Triumph will cruise have hardly been touched by fishermen, and experiment of the B. C. Fisheries, Ltd., it is hoped, will reveal that these waters abound in fish of a species that will find a ready market in any part of the world.

If the experiment is successful the company will not hesitate to have more trawlers sent to this coast.

RACES ASHORE WITH CARGO ALL ABLAZE

Beaufort, N. C., Oct. 21.—The Merchants and Miners' steamship Berkshire, bound from Savannah for Philadelphia, was raced into Cape Lookout Cove Sunday with her cotton hold afire, and is now anchored within 200 yards of shore with passengers and crew safe on board. From the position in which the ship lays, all on board could be landed at any time in any weather and no alarm is felt.

POLISHED BRASSWORK WITH VOLCANIC DUST

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—The ship Star of Holland, the last of the Alaska salmon packers' fleet, arrived yesterday from Larsen's Bay with her brasswork shining like a liner. All hands were kept busy polishing fittings on the southward trip, using volcanic dust which covered the decks and rigging June 6, when Katmai erupted. The ship was out 16 days and encountered heavy weather off the California coast

The German barque Hera, when she leaves the Columbia river for Europe, will take out 14,158 centals wheat, valued at $21,500, and 67,032 centals barley, valued at $35,500.

GEORGE BRINGS MANY SPECULATORS SOUTH

Prince Steamer Had Fine Weather Coming South—Was Nasty on Way North

Although she experienced very nasty weather on her northbound trip from Victoria the G. T. P. steamer Prince George, Capt. D. McKenzie, had a regular summer voyage south from Stewart and Prince Rupert, arriving here yesterday morning. The George had fog until she ran as far north as Seymour Narrows, and from then on had heavy rains and strong winds. At Prince Rupert the weather changed, and Capt. McKenzie described the weather on the southbound trip as being similar to that which prevailed here yesterday.

The Prince George brought a large list of passengers south, including 52 saloon and 57 deck. The majority of the passengers came out from the interior in the neighborhood of Hazelton. Many of them were speculators who have been investigating the mineral wealth of that vicinity. The trend of travel is now southward, and all steamers bound for Victoria or Vancouver have large lists of passengers.

Very few passengers went out on the George this morning for the north. J. P. Babcock, fishery commissioner, left on a tour of inspection of the north; Dr. C. P. Newcomb, of the Natural History Society, who is on an exploration trip; C. M. Wilson, of Delkatla, Queen Charlotte islands, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Smart.

The Prince George took a big cargo on at this port. One hundred tons of general merchandise, including supplies for interior points, were loaded by the George this morning.

The Prince Rupert left Prince Rupert this morning for Victoria, and will be in on Wednesday morning.

PASSES UP TO LOAD FREIGHT FOR SYDNEY

Inveric on Way to Vancouver —Titania Also Passes Up—No Word From Maru

To load a cargo of general freight under charter to the Canadian-Australian line the Weir steamship Inveric passed up to Vancouver this morning, calling here to pick up a pilot. So much freight is offering for shipment to the Antipodes that the regular liners of the company, owing to their limited amount of cargo space, are unable to handle it all, and the Inveric has been chartered to help out.

Another steamship passed up this morning, the Norwegian turret steamship Titania, which is going to Comox for bunker coal.

No word has been received here yet by wireless from the Nippon liner Tamba Maru, which is coming here from Yokohama and other Oriental ports. She is due to arrive here on Thursday morning, and has 500 tons of cargo consigned to Victoria. One hundred and thirty-three Chinese will disembark here. It is expected that the Estevan station will work with the steamship to-night.

The steamship Montara, of the Pacific coast fleet, along with the Alexandria, of the Kosmos line, were both expected in port to-day from San Francisco, but neither had been reported passing in at Tatoosh up till noon. The strong winds off the coast have more than likely held the vessels back.

HEAD LIGHTS

From Comox and Nanaimo the C. P. R. steamer Charmer, Capt. Brown, arrived in port yesterday with a number of passengers. She sails for the east coast late to-night.

To-morrow morning the C. P. R. steamer Princess Sophia, Capt. Campbell, will arrive in port from Skagway and Prince Rupert.

Bound for Holberg and way ports the C. P. R. steamer Tees, Capt. Gillam, left port last night. She took out a large list of passengers, including a great number of Indians. The Tees also had a good cargo of freight.

The Pacific Coast steamship City of Puebla, Capt. Paulsen, leaves port next Wednesday morning for San Francisco.

The depth of the Suez canal is to be increased immediately from 33 to 36 feet.

Second-hand steamers continue to be in good demand. This is because of the fact that orders for new command high prices and deliveries are late.

The French barque L'Hermite arrived at Dublin last Wednesday, 151 days out from Astoria, with a cargo of 65,825 centals wheat, valued at $109,709.

COMES IN TO TAKE OUT LUMBER CARGO

Maria Teresa Towed to Mills Yesterday—Only Main Hatch to Load Through

In tow of the Vancouver tug Dola the big Italian full-rigged ship Maria Teresa came into the harbor yesterday morning, and was berthed at the Canadian-Puget Sound Mills, where she will load close on to 2,000,000 feet of lumber for Sydney, N. S. W. Work is to commence immediately on the loading of the cargo. The mills have cut several hundred thousand feet of lumber for the sailer, and it is on the docks ready for her to load.

It is expected that the Maria will be in port about five weeks taking on her cargo, as she will only be able to load through her main hatch. She has no ports, and consequently the work of loading her will be somewhat prolonged. The Maria is the first windjammer to come here for lumber that has her crew's quarters in the half deck. All other ships have had part of the forecastle equipped for the seamen.

The Maria brought a cargo of tar around to Vancouver from Boston. When a few days out from the eastern port she fell in with a heavy gale, and her fore and mizzen top gallant yards carried away. When rounding Cape Horn the main top mast cracked under the strain of the canvas. While lying at Vancouver discharging, new yards were pared by the seamen and the top mast replaced.

Was Off Cape Six Days.

Early this morning the tug Dola placed a line aboard the Norwegian barque Lady Elizabeth, and is towing her to Vancouver, where she will load lumber for the south. The Elizabeth which is owned by a British company, made a quick passage up the coast to Cape Flattery from Los Vilos, being out 59 days. When off Flattery she was blown about for six days before being able to run in with a fair wind. When the wind did blow favorably the barque sailed up the Straits, but was unable to get to an anchorage in the Royal Roads and beat across to Dungeness, later being towed into the Roads.

SWIMMING ASSOCIATION WILL NOT LIKELY JOIN A. A. U.

Central Organization Do Not Wish Affiliation—McNeil Has Been Transferred to James Bay A. A.—New Swimming Trophy Accepted.

Affiliation with the British Columbia branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada is a motion that is now being considered by the coast branch of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association. The matter was brought up at Saturday's executive meeting of the B. C. S. A., and has been left in the hands of a special committee for further consideration. As conditions now exist, the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association does not recognize any governing body, neither do any of its provincial associations. It is just possible that the coast branch will become affiliated, but as the central branch in the east is not desirous of such a step, nothing definite has yet been decided upon.

Oppose J. B. A. A. Meet.

Another important matter that arose at the meeting was the international swimming meet the James Bay Athletic Association propose holding in Victoria next August. The J. B. A. A., which is an affiliated club of the Pacific Northwest Association, has been granted the championships. The local club will undoubtedly make a big effort to secure Canada's swimming stars, but as the C. A. S. A. is the chief swimming body in this part of the country, it is just possible that it will take steps to prevent the holding of the meet until a sanction is issued by the B. C. S. A.

New Trophy Offered.

The transfer of McNeil, the Y. M. C. A. crack to the James Bay Club was granted, and Mrs. Bell (a local professional, was reinstated after being four years in the pro. ranks. R. H. Allen's protest over the decision of the judges in the recent President's cup race at New Westminster was thrown out, McNeil, of Victoria, being declared the winner. An offer of a perpetual swimming trophy from V. I. Impett, of Vancouver, was accepted with thanks. The event for which the trophy is to be raced will be decided upon later.

W. A. Long, the president, was in the chair, the club representatives being as follow: W. Barrett and O. H. Camm, Vancouver Y. M. C. A.; L. H. Godfrey and C. E. Hopper, Victoria Y. M. C. A.; Mr. Simpson, Vancouver Rowing Club.

JAMES BAY BOXERS SEEK HIGH HONORS

Will Send Strongest Team to Seattle After International Athletic Championships

Seattle, Oct. 21.—The next big amateur inter-club smoker will bring the Seattle Athletic Club into competition with stars from the James Bay Athletic Association of Victoria, and indications are that the sport will be good. The bouts will be pulled off in the gymnasium of the S. A. C. next Friday evening. The completed programme is as follows:

110 lbs. (boxing.)—Albert Davies, J. B. A. A., vs. Walter Lyons, S. A. C.

135 lbs. (wrestling)—Jack Faitor, J. Canady, J. B. A. A., vs. Frank Duncan, S. A. C.

125 lbs. (boxing)—Charlie Urquhart, J. B. A. A., vs. Buster O'Neill, S. A. C.

158 lbs. (wrestling)—E. Middleton, J. B. A. A., vs. L. Wray, S. O. C.

James Bay will probably take over two other boxers, one at 145 lbs. and another at 158, the latter are not included in the inter-club schedule, but are being taken over to make a better drawing card, needless to say the J. B. A. A. will try and send their best men as they particularly wish to win this first international meet.

FINE PROGRAMME AT SWIMMING MEET

J. FULLARD LEO WINS THE 50-YARD TITLE

A. G. MacDonald, of Winnipeg, Captures 200-Yard Honors —Local Swimmers Starred

Victoria and Winnipeg divided honors in the Canadian indoor championships at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday night, Vancouver swimmers being outclassed in the title events. J. Fullard Leo, the local Y. M. C. A.'s veteran, won the fifty yards, just beating out A. G. MacDonald, of Winnipeg, in the final. The latter, swimming in beautiful style, easily won the 200 yard championship from Jack McNeill and C. P. Forster. The race for second honors in this event was a beauty, McNeill collapsing as he was pulled out of the water. In justice to the local boy it must be said that he has not had a proper chance to train, owing to the repairs which were being made to the Y. M. C. A. tank.

Splendid Programme.

A splendid programme of aquatic events was given, while as an extra feature W. T. Stanyon gave an exhibition of the feats which one is able to perform in the water. Fancy swimming and floating in various positions brought applause from the spectators. The plate diving, which was won by Scotty McKay, was another unique event. A. McKinnon, of Vancouver, won the 100 yard novice. W. T. M. Barrett, also of the Terminal City, won the plunge. Tommie Heyland and George Grey, two local boys, captured the junior events in splendid fashion, this pair showing considerable class as coming stars.

Results.

200 Yards Canadian Title.

First heat—A. G. McDonald, Winnipeg, first; time, 2.56. Second heat—C. P. Forster, Vancouver, first, time 2.54 2-5; second, J. McNeill, Victoria Y. M. C. A., time 2.55 3-5. CHARLIE BROWN WON SYDNEY MARATHON

Victoria West Runner Covered Course in Fast Time—Frank Bowser Was a Good Third

Leading for the better part of the journey, and finishing a full minute in advance of the second, Charlie Brown, of Victoria West, won the Sidney modified marathon in convincing style on Saturday, covering the course, a little short of ten miles, in 53.30. Ira Brethour was a good second, with Frank Bowser and Golding finishing in the order named. The race attracted quite a bit of interest, Brown, the winner, being greeted with cheers as he breasted the tape 200 yards in the lead. The complete results were:

1, Charlie Brown, Victoria West; 2, Ira Brethour; 3, Frank Bowser, J. B. A. A.; 4, Golding. Starter, R. G. McKenzie; judges, F. W. Anderson, W. H. Warne, Ald. Duffus; timers, H. A. McKillican and L. E. Spencer; clerks of course, Messrs. Barrow, North, Roberts, Thomas and Smith. P. N. Tester, who was largely instrumental in organizing the race, states that the Sidney marathon will be a permanent feature in the future.

AUSTRALIANS VICTORIOUS.

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—The Australian all-star team defeated the Olympic Club of San Francisco 2 to 0, in a game in which the Olympics were outplayed in everything but fighting spirit. The Olympics were on the defensive from start to finish. The home team seemed wholly without organization for offensive playing. The Australians showed remarkable skill in the loose play, and their occasional passing rushes were made with dazzling speed that usually resulted in scores.

VANCOUVER MAGNATE HUNTS FOR PLAYERS

President Bob Brown Already at Work on His Beaver Squad for Next Year

Drafts and sales of players have made big inroads into the lineup which did such faithful service during 1912, and there will be need of much building up in Vancouver. Of the old pitchers, Byram and Schmutz will be the nucleus around which a new staff of slabsters will be built. Both are good enough for any team in this company and Brown has an eye on a kid down in Portland who he believes will be a world beater when he is properly developed.

Likely Material in Sight.

With Sepulveda, the classiest young catcher of the Northwestern League last year, gone to 'Frisco, the manager will have need of fortifying himself with a good man to help out Carl Lewis, and he believes he has him in Pembroke, who was tried out last spring and sent to a Washington state club for further seasoning. Earl Sheeley, the youngster who come from Spokane and broke his leg in his second game, necessitating a lay off all season, was kept on the Beaver payroll and is to be given try out at first. Augustus, also one of last year's flock, turned loose when the weeding out process was accomplished, will be again tried.

Old Timers Remaining.

Of the old timers, Kippert will be in the garden, and Bill Goodman, whose playing was of the spectacular order after his shift from first to the hard corner of the diamond, will again be cavorting around third if Brown can keep possession of his services. Freer's speed insures him another try out.

Some of the old timers will probably be seen in the uniforms of other clubs if advantageous trades can be made for their services.

SWIMMING BATH FOR VICTORIA

That Victoria will have a municipal swimming bath before twelve months have elapsed was the promise that Mayor Beckwith gave to those assembled at the swimming championships. The need for one was emphasized by his worship, and he said that a by-law would be submitted shortly to cover the cost of a new bath.

STUDENTS MADE TROUBLE FOR REFEREE

Los Angeles, Oct. 21.—In the most bitterly contested football game ever played in Southern California, Stanford university defeated the University of Southern California team Saturday, 14 to 0.

Referee Reading's too strict interpretation of the rules, it was claimed, was all that gave Stanford six points in the first half. After the game the referee was "rushed" by several maddened U. S. C. students but a riot was averted by Coach Manning, who ordered the field cleared of under class men.

SOCCER LEAGUE STANDINGS REVEAL TUSSLE FOR HONORS

Victoria West Teams Make Splendid Showing in All Three Divisions—James Bay Eleven Making a Strong Bid for Soccer Title

Just now there is the merriest sort of a fight going on in the city soccer league. In the senior series James Bay and Victoria West are fighting for the leadership, the latter team having a one point margin on the Bays. The latter, however, claim that they have only struck their real stride and that they will catch the Wests before many weeks have passed. Both of these clubs appear to be exceptionally well-balanced teams and it would not be surprising if the clubs battled to the finish of the schedule, a tie. Thistles will furnish strong contention, while the Sons of England eleven must not be considered out of the fight by any means. The Navy-Esquimalt combination appear to be the only club that is out-classed, the Tars having failed to register a win to date.

Fast Scoring Teams.

As fast scoring teams, the Bays and Wests are about on a par. On Saturday both of these clubs won their games and both clubs tallied five times. In defensive work the Wests appear to have the edge, allowing but one goal, while the Bays had two scored against them. The evenness of the teams, however, is what is attracting the attention of the local soccer fans, and the first meeting between these teams will draw a bumper crowd.

Another Close Race.

In the second league the Bays and Wests are again showing the way to the competing clubs. The Foresters, Fifth Regiment, Y. M. C. A. and Navy-Esquimalt, are in the rear, and it looks as if these clubs will have their work cut out for them to reach the leaders. A feature of the play in this division was the terrible trouncing the Bays gave to the unlucky Soldiers on Saturday. The league leaders notched nine goals, while the Fifth Regiment failed to break into the summary. The North Wards scored five goals to the Tars' one, in their match with the Navy-Esquimalt eleven, while Coronas furnished the surprise of the day by defeating the Y. M. C. A. team. Victoria West shut out the Foresters, 2 to 0, being the final score.

Saturday's scores were as follows:

"54" HUDSON—a SIX

65 Miles an Hour. To 58 Miles in 30 Seconds from Standing Start

Here is the Answer to that oft asked question: "What will Howard E. Coffin do when he builds a 'Six'?"

The "54" HUDSON answers the question everyone in motordom has been asking for years. All know Howard E. Coffin to be America's foremost engineer. His six famous four-cylinder cars gained a reputation for him which led all to expect a wonderful six from him.

But sixes are not like fours, as many a designer has learned to his sorrow. Mr. Coffin realized that, and so, instead of attempting a six alone, he first secured as his associates the men who had already accomplished the most in six-cylinder designing. His men came from the leading factories of Europe and America. There are 48 in all—representing 97 leading motor car manufacturers. Combined, they know just about all that has been learned in motor car building. So the "54" HUDSON—Mr. Coffin's answer—is the composite of what the most successful builders, working together, have accomplished.

Electric Self-Cranking—Electrically Lighted

The Best Car They Know

It is smooth and flexible—the qualities for which sixes are really built, and which inexperienced men seem unable to obtain in the sixes they build.

It is powerful—speedy, beautiful, safe and comfortable. Simplicity is a notable feature, and economy in operation is accomplished as it is in but few six-cylinder cars.

Not Just Two Cylinders Added to a "Four"

Adding two cylinders to a good four won't even make a poor six. Fours and sixes are entirely different. That is why some sixes give less than 30% increased power when their weight, and fuel and oil consumption are 50% greater than the four of same size, to say nothing of the greater first cost.

Comfort—Speed—Completeness

The cushions of the "54" HUDSON are Turkish type—12 inches deep. Backs are high, upholstery thick, springs flexible and the car is so nicely balanced that it will take the worst roads at speed and with little discomfort to passengers.

On the Indianapolis Speedway, a "54" fully equipped, carrying extra tires and four passengers, did 10 miles at 62 miles an hour. One year ago on the same course a $500 prize was forfeited because none of many of the best known fours and sixes similarly equipped, driven by famous drivers, were able to do one mile in 60 seconds, flying start.

A "54" Hudson, with full equipment carrying four passengers, was driven from Detroit, Mich., to South Bend, Indiana—198 miles in 5 hours and 20 minutes. The trip was made between 6:30 and 11:50 A. M., July 4, 1912. Stops were made to change a tire and take on gasoline. The roads all the way are considered below the average in quality. The average speed was in excess of 37 miles an hour without deducting stops.

Every detail of motor car comfort is included in the "54." It is electrically self-cranking, has electric lights, speedometer, clock, top, rain vision windshield, nickel-plated trimmings—21 coats paint and varnish body finish, demountable rims—36x4½ tires, gasoline tank, with magnetic gauge on rear, robe rails, curtains and all the appointments that go with the highest type of car.

The price for either 5-passenger Touring Car, Torpedo or Roadster, is $3,400.00; 7-passenger Touring Car, $200.00 additional.

The "37," built by the same 48 engineers as built the "54," and the masterpiece of all four-cylinder cars, is with either 5-passenger Touring Car, Torpedo or Roadster, $2,600.00, f.o.b. Victoria. In every detail of equipment, comfort and appointment, it is precisely like the Six.

The busiest hours—the "peaks of the load"—at the telephone exchanges are between 10 and 12 in the morning, after people have opened their letters and telegrams, and again between 3 and 5 p.m., when the day's business is being closed up. Any extraordinary event—a big fire, a public disaster, an exciting ball game—causes a rush of telephone calls. Telephone traffic is the pulse of the community's life.

The busiest hours determine the organization of the plant and the number of employees. The service is thus much more expensive than it would be if the total number of daily calls were evenly distributed. Also, the night service is relatively much more expensive than the day service—it requires more operators in proportion to the actual work done.

WANDERERS WIN OVER WELSH CHANGES RUGBY SITUATION

Three Clubs Are Now Conceded a Chance for the Barnard Cup, With Surveyors an Unknown Quantity — Saturday's Surprise Reviewed—League Standing

Victoria's Rugby prospects brightened considerably on Saturday. There will be more than a two club fight between the Welshmen and Law Students, for the Wanderers have jumped into prominence, and now occupy second place as a result of their victory over the Victoria Welsh fifteen on Saturday. The victory for the Wanderers, while entirely unexpected by the local Rugby enthusiasts, changes the outlook greatly and with three first-class teams in the race for the title, the Barnard Cup competition has become an interesting contest.

Surveyors to Play Yet.

In naming the above three clubs as likely winners, one must not overlook the fact that the Surveyors have not yet played a game, while both the James Bay and Oak Bay teams are being strengthened, and either of these teams may come through with a victory that will cause a big upset in the league standing. The Law Students snowed the James Bay representatives under on Saturday, the final score being 27 to nil. The black and white team were unable to stall off the lightning attack of the Students, the three-quarter play of the latter team being especially good. Frank Galliher, with a brace of tries, led in the scoring.

Wanderers Deserved Victory.

Wanderers weight and the splendid passing and kicking of their backs, rushed the Welsh forwards off their feet in the first fifteen minutes of play and brought about the downfall of the Welshmen. Grant adopted tactics that took the rather confident Welsh fifteen by surprise, and by the time Capt. Thomas and his squad could get working right, the Wanderers had notched eight points, or enough to win by a comfortable margin. The Welshmen were several times within scoring zone, but the grand kicking of Williams, together with the effective line work of the Wanderer forwards, prevented the Welsh from tallying.

Welsh Were Favorites.

When the teams took the field, the record of the Welsh fifteen made that club prohibitive favorites, and their supporters were looking for a big score. From the kick-off, Williams returned the leather to touch in mid-field. A couple of scrums and a long pass to Carstairs, and the latter galloped over the Welsh line for the first try. Capt. Grant made a splendid try from a difficult angle, but failed to convert. Before the Welshmen could recover from their surprise, a combination run, sent Grant over for the second try, the Wanderer captain converting beautifully. This ended the scoring, and by paying particular attention to Dai Thomas, the Wanderers prevented the Welsh club from scoring.

How Clubs Stand.

Several times in the last few minutes the Welsh team appeared dangerous, but the final whistle sounded with the ball in midfield. The teams lined up as follows:

Wanderers. — Fullback, Williams; three-quarters, D. M. Grant, A. M. Hush, H. Gillespie and G. Day; halves, F. H. B. Champain and Daniels; forwards, G. Carstairs (capt.), T. C. Reid, K. Denniston, E. A. Rootham, Collison, F. W. Welsh, H. S. Beckton and A. F. Willis.

Victoria Welsh.—Fullback, B. Leeder; three-quarters, Haydn, Hill, Dai Thomas (capt.), Waage Mott; halves, Bayley and Rees; forwards, Dai Jarris, J. Davies, B. Watkins, Lachurch, Leason, Campbell, Honey.

Referee, A. D. B. Scott.

Standing of Clubs.

	W.	L.	D.	Pts.
Law Students	2	0	0	4
Wanderers	1	0	0	2
Victoria West	1	1	0	2
Oak Bay	0	1	0	0

REMARKED ON THE SIDE.

Wanderers' Chance for the Barnard Cup.

After witnessing the Wanderers' defeat the Welsh fifteen on Saturday at Oak Bay, one must admit that Capt. D. M. Grant's aggregation has a rather good chance for the championship. The winners of Saturday's Rugby feature are a team who do not rely upon the efforts of any one star, neither do they play the one style of football. Their winning tactics on Saturday consisted of a rushing attack that the Welsh fifteen were unable to resist, and backed by the weight of a team such as the Wanderers possess, this attack carried the Welsh team back on two occasions for the points that won the game. The Wanderers appear strong in all departments, and they will be further strengthened by the addition of G. B. Grant, a brother of Capt. Grant, who will be played at three quarter in the next match. He will add speed to this department of the team, and will aid in rounding out a fast scoring fifteen. Williams' kicking was little short of marvellous, he, on several occasions, staving off sure scores. The Law Students are going well, and even if the Surveyors do not turn out as strong as hoped for, local fans will see some great Rugby contests this fall, with such teams as the Wanderers, Welsh and Law Students in action.

Victoria Wests Have a Remarkable Record.

Great credit is due the Victoria West soccer teams for the brilliant record that they have established to date. Just figure out what class a club contains to be able to lead all three soccer leagues. The Wests' senior team look the best for the senior title, though the Bays will give them an argument, while the Second League eleven are a tie with the Bays for that division. In the juniors there does not appear to be a club that can class with the West representatives. The success of the Victoria West teams speaks well for the enthusiasm that prevails in that section of the city, and also for the interest that the players are taking in the game.

WINTERS' GUN TITLE.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Robert Winters, of Maple Park, Ills., won the second annual amateur shoot for the championship of the middle west at the Chicago gun club yesterday. Winters defeated Josh Young, holder of last year's title by one target. The two marksmen tied on the 100-target match, each breaking 97. In a 50-bird match to decide the tie, Winters broke 49 and Young 48.

SAILORS BEATEN.

The Devonian soccer team defeated the sailors from H. M. S. Algreine on Saturday at the canteen grounds by the score of 2 goals to nil.

At half time neither team had scored. But in the second half the Devonians after a hard fight, managed to tally twice. The sailors tried hard, but were unable to score.

Mr. Flood, the referee was very satisfactory to both sides.

MANAGER CHANCE WAS DROPPED BY MURPHY

Cubs' Owner Declares He Will Have Youth and Speed on Reorganized Chicago Team

Chicago, Oct. 21.—President Murphy, of the Cubs, issued a statement last night which indicates that several new faces will be seen in the 1913 lineup as well as a new manager. He declares that the team lacks speed, and the changes are to be made with an idea of getting faster men on the bases and who at the same time can hit.

"Unless I am badly mistaken we will have a good ball club and a competent manager in 1913," says the statement. "I am positive our pitching staff will be stronger and the outfield will be made up of fast men who can hit."

That the players are slow on the bases is pointed out by Murphy in a comparison of the clubs in the number of stolen bases, which shows the Cubs tied for sixth place with Philadelphia. He declares men 19 and 20 years old must be found to take the places of the players who have been years in the game and "slowed up."

POOR EXHIBITION AT ATHLETIC PARK

Victoria Professionals and Nanaimo United Left Their Shooting Boots at Home

A very poor game at the Royal Athletic park on Saturday afternoon resulted in a goalless draw between the Victoria professionals and Nanaimo United. It was a most dispiriting exhibition to the fairly large crowd which had assembled to witness a duel between the rivals.

About the only redeeming features of the game were great displays by Dougan, the Victoria goalie, and Mitchell, the Nanaimo centre-half. The clean kicking and sure tackling of the latter player elicited well deserved applause from time to time. Dougan played a fine game between the sticks, and though his gathering of the ball was not particularly clean at times, yet on the whole he gave a finished display. Mention might also be made of the Victoria backs, Newlands and Miller, who broke up the opposing attacks frequently by determined tackling, though their kicking left much to be desired.

Probably the chief fault that could be urged against the majority of the players was that they were too ladylike. Fouling and heavy charging are, of course, to be discouraged, but the "after you" principle will not hold good in association football, and one saw a little too much of that policy on Saturday, when the players seemed afraid to get their feet to the ball, if an opponent had his there as well. On the other hand there was some very pretty combination and concerted forward movements, particularly among the Victoria quintette, who though not so fast as the opposing five, were yet trickier in their fast work. Here again, it might be pointed out, that if the wingers would middle the ball more, and not be content with the short-passing game, better results would accrue. Pickering swung the ball out well to his wings and made an excellent pivot.

In the opening stages of the game Nanaimo pressed continuously while the Victoria sallies were intermittent and without sting. Whittaker seemed to have momentary lapses of forgetfulness with regard to the offside rule, infringements rolled up several times for Nanaimo citaue; a sudden sortie on the raised the hopes of the forwards but the ball sailed over the crossbar. Later on, a similar attack resulted in Shepherd conceding a corner, which was nicely placed among the ruck of players by Whittaker. Murray, however, cleared with a long kick, and the three inside men of the home team changed the venue with a speedy short passing movement into the enemy's territory. Their final attempt to score, however, was a miserable one.

Close on half-time Dougan's charge was in jeopardy through a fine run by Mitchell, his finishing effort, however, going just wide.

Half time came with a clean scoring sheet. The play was a little speedier after the interval, and for a time the Victoria forwards, nicely fed by their halves, dominated the situation. In front of goal, however, they nullified their efforts by execrable shooting. Probably the muddy condition of the ground had something to do with this, but nevertheless, their attempts to score betrayed a complete absence of knowledge with regard to the geographical position of the goal. Both Allen and Pickering mulled glorious chances, when a shot with any direction to it must have opened the scoring.

Towards the end, the game became a mere scramble with absolutely no cohesion at all. Dougan once saved well by tipping a rising ball over the bar and by punching out from the ensuing corner kick. After that the last spark of interest died out, and it came as a distinct relief when the referee sounded the final blast on his whistle.

Allowing for the condition of the ground, it must be conceded that with one or two exceptions, the players were not up to their usual form, and had most obviously left their shooting boots at home. That they are capable of better play was also evident, and the next meeting of the teams will be looked forward to with great interest. The game was exceedingly well refereed.

Teams.

Nanaimo.—Goal, Shepherd; backs, Murray and Hewitt; halves, Adams, Mitchell and McCulloch; forwards, Waddle, Brown, Gibson, Stobbart and Lightfoot.

Victoria.—Goal, Dougan; backs, Newlands and Miller; halves, Thomas McAdam and Wilson; forwards, Wilkie, Allen, Pickering, Whittaker and Muir.

CORK LEG WON THIS GAME

Startling Wind-up to Colorado Ball Game—Umpire's Decision Caused a Riot

Canfield, Colo., Oct. 21.—When Albert Billings kicked his cork leg across the home plate yesterday in the ninth inning, the score being tied, five to five, the umpire called the runner safe, and the last baseball game of the season broke up in a row. However, Umpire Jerry Carter consulted the rule book, declared that there was no precedent, and he held to his decision.

When the teams lined up for play, it was found that one team was shy a man. Billings, of the cork leg, volunteered, and the first thing he did was to knock a two-bagger. He stole third and started home when one of his teammates hit to shortstop. The shortstop tossed the ball to the catcher ten feet ahead of the runner, the cork leg flew off and crossed the plate while the owner dropped to the ground. The catcher stepped out and tagged the prone figure, but the umpire was watching closely and ruled that the foot at the end of the cork touched the base. The opposing team claimed that Billings was out because the catcher tagged him before he crossed the plate.

FAMOUS SPORTSMEN DIES.

Simpson Rennie, Father of Well-Known Rennie Bros., of Toronto, Held Many Honors.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—Simpson Rennie, one of the grand old men of curling, uncle of the Rennie boys, and himself a famous curler, bowler and quoiter, died here this morning aged 77. He was also a well-known agriculturist, having received the provincial gold medal for his model farm near Markham. Mr. Rennie took part in the Winnipeg bonspiel last winter. Mr. Rennie was associated for thirty years with the farmers' institute, and as a consequence was well known to practically every farmer in Ontario.

INTERNATIONAL RUGBY MATCH.

Carlisle, Pa., Oct. 21.—A challenge sent by the University of Toronto, champions of Canada at Rugby, to the Carlisle Indians, for a game at Toronto on October 28, has been accepted by the Indians. It is understood here that the game will be played under American inter-collegiate rules.

BROWN TO FIGHT.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—George "Knockout" Brown, the middleweight, and George Chip, of Pittsburg, were matched here last night for a ten-round boxing match at Syracuse, N. Y., October 29. They will weigh 158 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of the day of the fight.

HONOR MEMORY OF GREAT NAVAL HERO

Navy League Will Hold Meeting To-night—Cannon Presented to School

Members of the Overseas Club are requested to attend at the Victoria theatre this evening when a meeting will be held by the Victoria and Esquimalt branch of the Navy League to commemorate the anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar. The meeting will commence at 8.30 p.m., and among the speakers will be the president of the league, Capt. Clive Phillipps-Wolley, and also a member of the club.

At Craigflower school this afternoon a cannon was presented to the school which formerly belonged, it is stated, to the famous old Ganges, the last sailing line of battleship on active commission on foreign service, which was the flagship of Rear-Admiral Robert L. Baynes. She carried 84 guns, and was commanded when on this station by Capt. John Fulford, after whom Fulford harbor is called. The Ganges was on the Pacific station for four years from 1857, and was built at Bombay in 1821 from the model of the French line of battleship Franklin, captured in the battle of the Nile in 1798, and named Canopus.

The Ganges is now at the naval school at Shotley, Suffolk, England, where the figurehead of a Hindu forms a prominent feature of the drill yard. Part of the old hulk is used, like the Camperdown, for training boys in connection with the navy off this school in and around Harwich harbor.

Shelter on Fountain Site.—In addition to the convenience proposed by Alderman Humber at the junction of Government and Douglas streets and Gorge road, where the Fountain now stands, he will ask for a shelter for street car passengers at the same site.

o o o

George Jay School.—As a proof of the overcrowding of the George Jay school, Principal T. W. Hall reports that with the exception of Divisions 1, 3 and 4 of the school, every class is overcrowded, and the desk accommodation insufficient to meet the demands on same.

o o o

Saanich Car Line.—The Saanich car line is now seven miles out from the city hall, and the work is advancing rapidly. Rails have been laid down out to one point, and the supposition is that the whole line would be completed about the time previously stated—that is about the end of December. In all probability the service will not be very extensive at the commencement, as the end of the year is the wrong time for starting a new system, but the frequency of cars on the line will be increased as the need becomes more apparent, and the further opening up of the peninsula as a residential district, warrants the running of a better service.

LOCAL NEWS

Columbian Diocesan W. A.—The next quarterly board meeting of the Columbian Diocesan branch of the W. A. will be held at St. Paul's (Esquimalt), on Friday at 2 p.m. All branch representatives are requested to attend.

o o o

St. John's Branch W. A.—St. John's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will hold a special meeting in the guild room to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock to prepare for the sale of work and donation party to be held Tuesday, October 29.

o o o

Oak Bay Permit.—A building permit was granted by the Oak Bay authorities this morning to Messrs. Duncan and Orr for a five-roomed house on Fourth street to be erected at a cost of $2,400. The building will contain five rooms.

o o o

Oak Bay Council.—The Oak Bay Council will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the new municipal hall at the corner of Oak Bay Avenue and Hampshire Road north. A large amount of routine business is on the agenda.

o o o

Natural History Society.—This society will meet to-night in the Friends Hall, Courtney street, at 8 o'clock. Members are requested to bring forward interesting observations in natural history. If there is time the secretary will recount personal observations in Montenegro in 1887.

o o o

Returns This Week.—The superintendent of the B. C. E. Railway this morning received a communication from A. T. Goward, the local manager, who is at present attending the street-car convention at Milwaukee. Mr. Goward will be in town again on Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

o o o

B. P. O. E. Meeting.—Members of the Benevolent Protective Order of Beavers are asked to attend the general meeting to-night at 8 o'clock, Eagles' hall, Government street. There are several items of importance down for discussion relating to increase of membership and sick benefits. This fraternal order is not connected in any way with any political body bearing the name of Beavers. A big attendance is looked for at this meeting.

o o o

Killed By Explosion.—While cleaning out the waste tank at the Giant Powder Works, Telegraph on Saturday a Chinese was blown with contained waste nitro-glycerine and water. It was cleaned out once a week. The Chinese was seen at work before the accident, but has not been seen since. Owing to the absence of the body the coroner has decided it is impossible to hold an inquest. The explosion also did great damage to the building.

o o o

Esquimalt Council.—At a meeting of the Esquimalt council this evening Reeve Lugrin will introduce a motion dealing with the franchise for householders, so that they may be protected at the annual election. There are a number of important matters to come up, including the lighting question, and by-laws for the regulation of the municipality, both of which deserve attention. The organization of the municipality is proceeding apace, and a number of the most necessary questions are already in hand with a view to settlement.

o o o

New Library Bulletin.—A new bulletin has just been issued at the Carnegie library. It contains the names and locations of all books, fiction or non-fiction which have been added to the shelves during the months of September. The booklet is given free to all members of the library.

o o o

St. James' Social.—The Ladies' Guild of St. James' church intend holding a parlor social this evening at 8 o'clock, at the residence of the rector, 215 Quebec street. All parishioners and friends are cordially invited to be present. Refreshments, music and various games provided.

o o o

Young People's Meeting.—An interesting social meeting of the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church will be held in the church parlors from 8 to 10 o'clock to-night. A special programme has been arranged for this, the first meeting of the season to which all the young people of the church are invited.

o o o

A. O. F. Roll Call To-night.—To-night Court Vancouver No. 5755, A. O. F. in the A. O. F. hall will hold a grand roll call in honor of its fortieth anniversary. Bro. Waller, one of the oldest members of the A. O. F., will occupy the chair. The meeting will be called to order at 7.30 p. m. sharp, in order to allow plenty of time for the ceremony at the close of which a banquet will be held.

o o o

Topical Articles.—The city engineer, C. H. Rust, and Ernest McGaffey, secretary of the Vancouver Island Development League, are collaborating on an article about Vancouver Island to be sent to the "Contracting and Engineering Record" at Toronto. The latter gentleman has also contributed an article to the coming number of the B. C. Magazine on Immigration. In his thesis he takes the ground that all immigration outside of that of Anglo-Saxon peoples should be discouraged, save in the case of nations which blend well with them, such as the Norwegians and Danes.

o o o

Benefit Concert.—A grand concert will be given in the Drill Hall under the auspices of the Caledonian Society and the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters, on behalf of Dan Black, who met with a serious accident seven months ago and is still unable to follow his employment. A large company of the best local talent have consented to appear. A large and varied programme will be given, consisting of songs, dances, sketches, club swinging and instrumental selections. Mr. Black is a well-known concertina soloist and will give selections on his concertinas. The tickets are going well and may be had from the committee at the door.

o o o

Conservatives Travel.—Ward I. Conservatives met Saturday night and elected their delegates to the Conservative convention which opens at Revelstoke on Friday. The list of delegates from all the wards attending the convention is as follows: Ward I.—Messrs. L. Tait, F. Popham, F. Davey, G. Penketh, H. Maynard, F. Court, W. C. Moresby and Ald. Geo. Okell. Ward II.—Messrs. T. Anderson, G. W. Walker, G. Florence, Ed. Bragg, N. Nicholson, W. Luney, sr., E. E. Henderson and J. Roberts. Ward III.—Messrs. W. E. Staneland, S. H. Redgrave, C. H. o o o

Gifts to Library.—Important gifts have been received at the Carnegie library during the week-end. Two valuable books were donated on Saturday by Dr. Fredlander. These comprised an edition, published in 1731 of John Locke's "Human Understanding" and a very old and valuable volume of "The Tatler." Another valuable gift was in the form of over three score books for children donated by Mrs Hannington.

o o o

Arrangements for Social.—A meeting of the committees of the boys' section of the local Y. M. C. A. was held on Saturday evening to discuss the arrangements for the forthcoming social which is to be held on Thursday next. At the meeting A. O. Hughes, the boys' work director, intimated that the annual relay race, open to teams of eight, will be run from Oak Bay to the Union Club. The race is for the Robinson-Andrews cup, and the present holders are the members of the fourth troop (Y. M. C. A.) of Boy Scouts.

o o o

Body Washed Ashore.—The Esquimalt police this morning discovered the body of a man among the rocks at the foot of Fraser Road, Esquimalt. The body has been in the water for some weeks and is not yet identified. It was brought to the city and is at the undertaking rooms of Hanna & Thompson.

o o o

The Weather.—The centre of an atmospheric storm of considerable magnitude is centred at the present time off Triangle Island where a southeast gale has been blowing consistently all day. High winds are prevalent also all along this coast as far south as the Columbia river mouth. The minimum temperature recorded this morning on the local thermometer was 38 degrees. Other parts of the continent, however, have not been so fortunate as sixteen degrees of frost greeted the inhabitants of the Cariboo district when they awoke this morning; four degrees of frost were recorded in Alberta and four in Manitoba.

How You Win with Cash

THE money-making faculty will not prevail if there is not behind it the money-saving instinct.

You must buy for cash if you would always have cash. Credit is expensive. Every credit store gives a cash discount to cash buyers, but that discount does not equal the net price of the one-price and cash-only store. We know.

The credit buyer is kept poor because he is always paying more for his clothes than he who pays cash. In one year, his excess fine for credit buying would buy him another suit.

Suits, Overcoats $15, $18, $20, $25, $30, $35.
The Label and Price in Pocket.

To get along in the world, to win out, you must save money, and you must be a cash buyer.

Semi-ready clothes are sold at one price for cash—the same price everywhere—the price made by the makers—and the lowest price at which such good tailoring can be bought.

The weekly whist drive of the Ivy Leaf Club was held as usual at the Alexandra Club, and a very enjoyable evening spent. In the interval there was a little business to talk over, and a suggestion to hold a special evening about Christmas, for a supper and social, was left to the committee to draw up a programme. The standing of the club at present is very satisfactory, and new members are present at every whist drive. Mrs. Vincent presented the prizes to the following successful players: Mrs. H[illegible], first lady; Mrs. Stafford, second lady; Mrs. Webb, consolation; Mr. Buckley, first gentleman; Mr. Hawkin, second gentleman; Mr. Vincent, consolation. T. Hall acted as master of ceremonies.

IDEAS OF A PLAIN MAN

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

The miracle of love is worthy of all our wonder. When man and maid meet, and suddenly some psychic current crashes upon the nervous system, their blood leaps, a paralysis sweet to pain ties their tongues; they cannot take their eyes from one another's face; and they are as two spiritual Leyden jars, coming together and releasing a strange dynamic; that is one of the marvels eternally new and amazing.

But there is another fact, tragic and terrible, equally shattering. It is disillusion.

When two who have shared the dearest intimacy, who have been fused by love into a single personality with one mind, one joy, one life, begin to separate, misunderstand, suspect, and little by little, or suddenly, are riven apart, and love, which was life, becomes but an episode, than this I can conceive nothing more appalling.

To preserve love, no pains, no self-denial, no sacrifice is too great, except that love itself has become a degradation. No haunted house is so frightful as the heart haunted by the ghost of a dead love. No emptiness is so lonely as the emptiness of a life whence love is fled. "'Tis better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all," provided we lose by death, for death alone can nobly part lovers; but when the loss is by alienation, then "the last state of that man is worse than the first."

A SALARIED CAT.

The only salaried cat in the United States, so far as one can find out, has just died in New Orleans, and was given a proper burial. This was Old Tom, who for years had been carried on the Board of Trade as official rat catcher, with a salary of 10 cents a day, and was never discharged, though in his later years he was as reluctant as other veteran office-holders to get busy. But he had no enemies except of the feline sort, and his framed picture is to adorn the directors' room at the Board of Trade.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

"Why is a bore?"

We were gathered in conclave assembled before the first open fire of the season; we had been talking of many things, "of shoes and ships and sealing wax, of cabbages and kings"; we had settled the affairs of the universe and then drifted into friendly silence as one does before an open fire, when Molly, the little stenographer lady, propounded the above question.

"Why is a bore, Molly?" echoed the authorman's wife. "What a silly question! What do you mean? Or is it a joke?"

The authorman's wife is very literal minded and so frequently misses our subtle jokes that she has acquired the habit of defending herself from mistake by that question.

"No, of course it's not a joke," said Molly. "It's just this. There's a man in our office who bores everybody to extinction. We all do anything we can to avoid talking with him, and yet he ought to be interesting for he has had a splendid education and has travelled around the world. Now what I want to know is what makes him a bore and other people interesting when they haven't been anywhere or had half his education? In other words, why is a bore? I wish you'd think of all the bores you know and tell me."

The authorman's wife still looked as if she thought it was a very silly question but the wants-to-be cynic took up the gauntlet.

"A bore," he stated, "is someone who knows so much more than you do that he makes you feel stupid."

"Horrid thing!" said Molly. "It wasn't that at all. For I just love to talk with Mr. Graham and he knows twice as much as this man. Besides some people (with an icy emphasis on the some) who don't really know much of anything bore me, so that could hardly be the reason."

"Why, Molly" interrupted the lady-who-always-knows-somehow pacifically, "I think a bore is just a person who doesn't have any of the same interests that you do. That makes him a bore to you, he may not be to everybody."

"No," said the authorman. "I don't think that's so, lady. There are some people who are just born bores—bores to everybody. It seems to me that a bore is a person who never thinks, really thinks out thoughts of his own, I mean. He just takes the ideas and thoughts he finds current and uses them over and over again. He's the kind of person that's always quoting proverbs and always saying things like, 'It never rains when you take your umbrella.'"

"That's not bad," said the man-who-thinks, "but how about this—a bore is just a person without a sense of humor."

"A bore is a person too selfish to know he is boring you," I contributed.

"I have it Molly!" said the wants-to-be-cynic who had been in disgrace since his first attempt, and then as we waited for something worth while at last he announced triumphantly—

"A bore is a person who bores you."

"Why is a bore?"—really it is an interesting question. Discuss it some time. For are there not many, perfectly good, well educated people who bore you intensely, and others with far less claims to distinction who amuse and interest you?

Now why is it?

Why is a bore?

TECHNICAL EDUCATION.

The thirty-seventh annual report of the minister of state for education in Japan, which has just come to hand, is at once, in many respects, an inspiration and an example to all who are engaged in educational work. While a good general education is given as a foundation, special attention is paid to every department of technical education. There are said to be 5,614 technical schools, but of these 5,192 are supplementary schools, in which the simplest applications of the work of the elementary schools is given to industries of the district. There are fourteen higher grade institutions under the direct control of the department of education, in which a very complete training is given in the subjects required in commerce, industry and agriculture. At the head of the educational system are the Imperial universities, which are now very completely organized and equipped. The Imperial University of Tokio has six colleges—namely, those of Law, Medicine, Engineering, Literature, Science and Agriculture, and, in addition, has a university hall for graduates. The University of Kyoto has a College of Law, two colleges of Medicine (one in Kyoto and the other in Fuknoku), a college of Literature and a college of Engineering. The colleges of Engineering are especially well equipped, and their arrangements and methods will compare very favorably with similar institutions in other parts of the world. No wonder that so few engineering students now require to come to this country for the theoretical side of their training. When they do come, it is usually to gain further practical experience in works. A considerable number of the best students are sent abroad for study, and these are generally teachers or graduates of the schools under the direct control of the education department. The Japanese not only develop their own institutions, but they keep themselves informed regarding the best that is being done in other parts of the world.

UTILIZING THE "ISLAND ALPS"

PARTY RETURNS FROM STRATHCONA PARK

Outline of Works Which Are to Be Carried Out There—A Scenic Wonderland

R. H. Thomson, landscape engineer, who has been engaged during the past summer in the preliminary work incidental to the development of Strathcona Provincial park, has returned to Victoria, and will be for the few days following in consultation with W. W. Foster, deputy minister of public works, as to the substance and details of the report which they will shortly present to the government with respect to the work of the year within the park reserve area and what appears to them essential to the development of this great pleasuring ground to the best advantage of future generations of British Columbians.

When the establishment of the park was decided upon a year or so ago, Buttle lake being made the heart of the reserved territory, comparatively little was known as to the exact character of the scenic attractions of central Vancouver Island, and the past season has in consequence been largely devoted to comprehensive exploration and study of what may be called the raw material at command. Topographical surveys on an extensive scale have been carried forward, trails built along the main avenues of ingress and exit (these trails being constructed on gradients and with a view to conversion later into trunk roads), and the timber, flora, fish and game resources of the park district being carefully studied.

The knowledge of conditions acquired through this year's work by Mr. Thomson and his staff will most probably induce the chief engineer and the public works minister to recommend to the government the enlargement or alteration of the park boundaries so that several notable scenic features, as well as all main approaches to the park, may be brought under governmental control. This is no more than what might have been expected, and necessary in order that the most may be made of the park for the practical benefit of the present and future generations.

It was in order to see things for himself and check the discoveries and conclusions of Mr. Thomson that Deputy Minister Foster during the past fortnight made a tour of the park area and contiguous territory, from which he has but recently returned. His party included Mr. J. G. C. Wood, representative of Alberni (and therefore of the greater part of the park area) in the provincial legislature, Mr. Leonard Frank, of Alberni, official photographer, and C. H. Gibbons, publicity expert. These went in by way of Campbell river and the newly made trails, first visiting the several lake swellings of Campbell river, the Elk river valley, and the Drum and Summit lakes, the latter body of water lying in the heart of the watershed of the Island, its waters draining via the Elk into Campbell river and the Gulf of Georgia on the eastern seaboard, and by way of Gold river into Muchalat Arm and Nootka Sound on the west.

By this route a first-class trail has been made, easily convertible into a good motoring road, from the eastern to the western coast, with a maximum grade of less than one per cent., and two of the future park's main gateways being thus provided for in the event of certain seemingly essential extensions of the park boundaries. The entrance to the park proper from Campbell river, will thus be through a truly titanic natural gateway, mountain guarded, the portals being two towering sentinel cliffs of one thousand feet height, forest clothed. That via Gold river promises to reveal to future travellers from the Nootka side grandeurs of canyon and towering crag without rival on the Pacific coast of America.

Entering the park by the Campbell river gateway the visitor passes through the district of show timber, with hundreds of towering firs and cedars in stately groups, individual trees of from ten to sixteen feet in diameter being countless in number. It is expected that this big tree section will be developed during the early days of the park's upbuilding, the smaller growths and underbrush being cleared out, the vast stretches of Caribou moss replaced by violets, lilies of the valley and other blooms adapted to the climatic conditions, soil and environment, and the feeding grounds of the Elk river being improved so that here may be preserved herds of the lordly wapiti, which must prove a worthy attraction of the people's park.

At present the elk are not especially numerous (although Mr. Foster's party on their recent trip came across one family herd of four), and it will be necessary not only to declare a close season of years for all elk on Vancouver Island, but also to restock with a selected number of young bulls in order that protection from the wolves and cougars, a protection now nonexistent, may lead to the restoration of the large herds. Red deer, goat, mountain sheep and other animals capable of thriving in such habitat will also in all probability be introduced and protected so soon as an assurance of feed supply is obtainable. The beaver at present is an omnipresent resident of the park, and good judgment commands that they be preserved, accustomed to contact with friendly humans, and domesticated to that extent that they will continue to pursue their engineering activities unalarmed, to the infinite delight of future generations of little folk.

It is to be taken for granted that shooting within the park boundaries will at no time be permitted, but its piscatorial wealth will undoubtedly be one of Strathcona's great assets. In every lake, river, streamlet, pool and cascade trout abound, the Rainbow, Cut-throat and Dolly Varden species being most in evidence, and full bags rewarding the angler with fly or troll. At Buttle lake one evening a week ago, two members of the just returned party took upwards of twenty-five pounds of fine trout in the course of two hours' trolling, the pride of the basket being a Cut-throat which fought out its fate with Mr. Wood, and which when brought to the cook's tent was found to measure upwards of two feet in length, and to scale six pounds and a fraction.

It is peculiarly interesting also to know that trolling at depth, trout apparently identical with the famous Beardsley, hitherto believed to be native only to Crescent lake, Washington, may be taken easily, these fish being of a steel-blue color, very full of fight, and weighing even fifty pounds and upwards. The Beardsley inhabits the deeps, and frequently must be trolled for at from five to six hundred feet.

While in the upper Elk river valley, Mr. Foster and his friends climbed several of the mountains, from the crests of which incomparable panoramic views were obtained of the surrounding sea of peaks and vividly green valleys, splashed with the gleaming gold of the maples—the Gulf and its archipelago, hundreds of virgin glaciers of vast extent, and the background mountains of the mainland being clearly discernible to the East, and the rugged mountain line, deep fjiords and far-reaching waters of the Pacific to the West. In the Alpine district of the new park there is an abundant sufficiency of great peaks to occupy ambitious mountaineers for half a century to come, and while these do not possess the altitude of the interior mountains, rising so close to salt water, they in themselves are higher, and offer greater obstacles to alpinists than even the giants of the Canadian Rockies, with all the variety of glacier, rock-work, etc., which these adventure-seekers demand and appreciate.

The flora of the park proper includes many of the favorite flowers of the West—the white and the tiger lily, the wild rose, the mountain ash, the painters' brush, the mountain ash, etc., together with both false and true Scottish heather on the hillsides and a considerable variety of valley, plateau and mountain fern, flower and moss enrichment. It will most probably be deemed advisable to introduce other blooms in mass to give vivid summer color to the entrancing picture of lake-set mountains; and song bird immigration will be scientifically and systematically assisted by the planting of seed-bearing plants suitable to the demand, the climate and the soils.

After a thorough study of the park conditions and problems, Mr. Foster with Benjamin Lewis made a flying and strenuous trip out via the Roberts trail, which has been suggested as the route for a possible wagon road from Alberni into the park, but which must inevitably be re-located and carried higher up the hillsides for a considerable extent before it could be so adapted.

Mr. Thomson, with the others of the original party, came out to Great Central lake and thence via Alberni, by an entirely new route first suggested by "Happy" Andrews, an Alberni frontiersman, scaling the mountain wall from Price river at a point six miles from where this stream debouches into Buttle lake, skirting Cream lake in a blinding snowstorm and blizzard, with the mercury showing eight degrees of frost, at an elevation of 4,450 feet, and dropping down Drinwater creek through a succession or rocky chasms in several of which recourse to the rope was necessary, until a connection was made with the Big Interior trail just below Della Falls, a fairy, feathery fall with an almost sheer drop of upwards of two thousand feet.

With an extension of the Park boundaries this should be made one of Strathcona's show features, as also must become a waterfall discovered by Mr. Thomson's people during the just past season and given the name of Lady Falls, for the excellent reason that when viewed or photographed it gives the exact lines of a stately lady garbed in evening attire.

There will probably be four main gateways by which the Park of the future will be entered, one on the south from Alberni by a route to be decided upon later, after sufficient exploration has been done to make selection possible, and the other via the Ash river or Comox lake. A continuous motoring road practically encircling the Island and unfolding all the varied beauties of the Park is a certainty of the future; while both the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern promise to afford larger transportation facilities almost (if not quite) as soon as the Park is ready for the reception of visitors, their locating engineers being now in the field on the very borders of the Park reserves.

DUNLOP TIRES STAND THE TEST

Thos. W. Wilby, author, journalist, and motorist of international repute, who has completed 12,000 miles of Pathfinding in the United States and Canada, and who has just reached Victoria on the first auto trip across Canada, says: "The Dunlop Traction Tread Tire is a miracle worker and a life saver. On my motor tour from Halifax to Victoria we carried Dunlop Traction Tread Tires on all four wheels, and until we reached North Bay, Ontario, I had forgotten that we had chains. It was simply wonderful to see how the tire held the road under the very worst weather conditions, and to find the sense of fear disappearing when motoring over narrow ledges, over hanging precipices and on twenty-five to thirty per cent grades.

The Dunlop Traction Tread does not pick up things from the road so easily as other tires that I know. We were spared the chain nuisance almost entirely. As for wearing qualities, we came into Victoria with Halifax air in one of the tires, after over four thousand miles touring over roads and trails which sometimes beggared description. Our two rear tires showed very little surface wear when we took to the railroad ties in British Columbia, and tore them to ribbons on the spikes and frogs of the track. Otherwise I feel confident that we would have reached the Pacific with three of the original tires intact. The car and equipment weighed over 4,000 lbs.

The Anniversary of Trafalgar

OCTOBER 21, 1805

To-day is Trafalgar Day. One hundred and seven years ago the British fleet, under Lord Nelson, destroyed the combined squadrons of France and Spain and shattered Napoleons carefully laid plans of invading Britain. The battle of Cape Trafalgar, therefore, like that of Salamis just 2,285 years before it, was a crucial turning point of history. Of all victories by land or sea in which British arms have participated, Trafalgar has taken the chief place in the nation's pride, and Nelson, who fell in the hour of his glorious triumph, unquestionably is the supreme hero of his countrymen, who to-day are rallying in many parts of the Empire to do honor to his memory.

His name has been one to conjure with for over a century, and is about as potent in its influence upon the sentiment of his country to-day as it was in the days which saw Aboukir Bay, Copenhagen, and Trafalgar. The greatest of naval heroes, his shattered frame rests under the lofty dome of the Cathedral church of the capital city of the Empire, a few feet from the tomb of that other great warrior who furnished on land the complement to Nelson's victories at sea.

Admiral Collingwood's Reports.

Accompanying is the dispatch published in an extraordinary edition of the London Gazette on November 6, 1805, containing the account of the battle from the pen of Vice-Admiral Collingwood, who succeeded to the command after Nelson's death:

Euryalus, off Cape Trafalgar, Oct. 22, 1805.

Sir,—The ever-to-be-lamented death of Vice-Admiral, Lord Viscount Nelson, who in the late conflict with the enemy fell in the hour of victory, leaves to me the duty of informing my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty that on the 19th instant it was communicated to the Commander-in-Chief, from the ships watching the motions of the enemy in Cadiz, that the combined fleet had put to sea; as they sailed with light winds westerly, his Lordship concluded their destination was the Mediterranean, and immediately made all sail for the Straits entrance with the British squadron, consisting of twenty-seven ships, three of them sixty-fours, where his Lordship yas informed by Captain Blackwood (whose vigilance in watching and giving notice of the enemy's movements has been highly meritorious) that they had not yet passed the Straits.

On Monday, the 21st instant at daylight, when Cape Trafalgar bore E. by S. about seven leagues, the enemy was discovered six or seven miles eastward, the wind about west, and very light. The commander-in-chief immediately made the signal for the fleet to bear up in two columns as they are formed in order of sailing; a mode of attack his Lordship had previously directed to avoid the inconvenience and delay in forming a line of battle in the usual manner. The enemy's line consisted of thirty ships (of which eighteen were French and fifteen Spanish), commanded in chief by Admiral Villeneuve; the Spaniards under the direction of Gravina, were with their heads northward, and formed their line of battle with great closeness and correctness; but as the mode of attack was unusual, so the structure of their line was new; it formed a crescent, convexing the leeward, so that in leading down to the centre I had both their van and rear abaft the beam; before the fire opened every alternate ship was about a cable's length to windward of her second ahead and astern, forming a kind of double line, and appeared when on their beam to leave a very little interval between them; and this without crowding their ships. Admiral Villeneuve was in the Bucentaure in the centre, and the Prince of Asturias bore Gravina's flag in the rear; but the French and Spanish ships were mixed without any apparent regard to order of national squadron.

As the mode of our attack had been previously determined on and communicated to the flag officers and captains, few signals were necessary, and none were made except to direct close order as the lines bore down.

The commander-in-chief, in the Victory, led the weather column, and the Royal Sovereign, which bore my flag, the lee.

The action began at twelve o'clock by the leading ships of the column breaking through the enemy's line, the commander-in-chief about the tenth ship from the van, the second in command about the twelfth from the rear, leaving the van of the enemy unoccupied; the succeeding ships breaking through in all parts, astern of their leaders, and engaging the enemy at the muzzles of their guns. The conflict was severe; the enemy's ships were fought with a gallantry highly honorable to their officers; but the attack on them was irresistible, and it pleased the Almighty Disposer of all events to grant his Majesty's arms a complete and glorious victory. About 3 p. m. many of the enemy's ships having struck their colors their line gave way; Admiral Gravina with ten ships joining their frigates to leeward, stood towards Cadiz. The five headmost ships in their van tacked, and standing to the southward, to windward of the British line, were engaged, and the sternmost of them taken; the others went off, leaving to his Majesty's squadron nineteen ships of the line (of which three are first-rates—the Santissima, Trinidad, and the Santa Anna), with three flag officers, viz: Admiral Villeneuve, the commander-in-chief; Don Ignatis Maria D'Aliva, vice-admiral; and the Spanish rear admiral, Don Bathagar Hidalgo Cisueros.

After such a victory it may appear unnecessary to enter into enconiums of the particular parts taken by the several commanders; the conclusion says more on the subject than I have language to express; the spirit which animated all was the same; when all exert themselves zealously in their country's service, all deserve that their high merits should stand recorded; and never was high merit more conspicuous than in the battle I have described.

The Achille (a French 74), after having surrendered, by some mismanagement of the Frenchman took fire and blew up; two hundred of her crew were saved by the tenders.

A circumstance occurred during the action which so strongly marks the invincible spirit of British seamen, when engaging the enemies of their country, that I cannot resist the pleasure I have in making it known to their Lordships.

The Temeraire was boarded by accident or design by a French ship on one side and a Spaniard on the other; the contest was vigorous, but in the end the combined ensigns were torn from the poop and the British hoisted in their places. Such a battle could not be fought without sustaining a great loss of men. I have not only to lament in common with the British navy and the British nation in the fall of the commander-in-chief, the loss of a hero whose name will be immortal and his memory ever dear to his country; but my heart is rent with the most poignant grief for the death of a friend to whom by many years intimacy and a perfect knowledge of the virtues of his mind, which inspired ideas superior to the common race of men, I was bound by the strongest ties of affection; a grief to which the glorious occasion in which he fell does not bring the consolation which perhaps it ought. His Lordship received a musket ball in his left breast about the middle of the action, and sent an officer to me immediately with his last farewell, and soon after expired.

I have also to lament the loss of those excellent officers Captains Duff, of the Mars, and Cooke, of the Bellerophon. I have yet heard of none others. I fear the numbers that have fallen will be found very great, when the returns come to me; but it having blown a gale of wind ever since the action, I have not yet had it in my power to collect any reports from the ships.

The Royal Sovereign having lost her masts, except the tottering foremast, I called the Euryalus to me while the action continued, which ship lying within hail, made my signals—a service Captain Blackwood performed with great attention; after the action I shifted my flag to her, that I might more easily communicate my orders to, and collect the ships, and towed the Royal Sovereign out to seaward. The whole fleet were now in a very perilous position, many dismasted, all shattered, in thirteen fathom water off the shoals of Trafalgar; and when I made the signal to prepare to anchor few of the ships had an anchor to let go, their cables being shot; but the same good Providence which aided us through the day preserved us through the night by the wind shifting a few points, and drifting the ships off the land, except four of the captured dismasted ships, which are now at anchor off Trafalgar, and I hope will ride safe until those gales are over.

Having thus detailed the proceedings of the fleet on the occasion, I beg to congratulate their Lordships on a victory which I hope will add a ray to the glory of his Majesty's crown, and be attended with public benefit to our country. I am, etc.,

(Signed)
C. COLLINGWOOD.

At Nelson's Monument.

London, Oct. 21.—To-day being the anniversary of Trafalgar the Nelson monument in Trafalgar Square is beautifully decorated with wreaths from all parts of the Empire, including Salt Spring Island and Esquimalt. A huge block of ice encloses a wreath from Wellington, New Zealand. Another magnificent wreath has the following superscription: "Australia obeys Nelson's last signal."

There was a canal between the Red Sea and the Nile in the days of Pharaoh.

The title "Admiral" is derived from an Arabic phrase meaning "ruler of the sea."

Range Talks By The Housekeeper

No. 3 - Subject - "Fire Box and Grates"

"WE women folks will always consider the Oven all-important, but, my husband—he knows how a range should be made—attaches a great deal of importance to both Fire-box and Grates—they are just as important, in his opinion, as the Oven.

"John likes our 'Kootenay' Range, because it has a real Fire-box—a big, long deep, Fire-box with plenty of heating capacity, — Yet he says, it is not too big but nicely proportioned to size of oven. And of course, it is very plain that he is right.

"The 'KOOTENAY' Fire-box makes cooking easy all over the top—it heats the Oven so evenly that one can cook and roast a large joint perfectly at the same time. No waste of time with this dependable Fire-box, so—it is quite evident that it saves fuel—reduces coal bills because one can do so much at once with it.

"The linings of the 'KOOTENAY' Fire-box are made in nine separate pieces—3 in front, 4 in back, and 1 on each end. This allows for contraction and expansion, and — these linings are made of extra heavy, durable semi-steel—they resist the strongest heat for a very long time."

"And the semi-steel GRATES—made in two styles for wood and coal—are remarkable for endurance.

The Coal Grate is made in two pieces, and is easily shaken.

The wood Grate is very simple and strong. You can take out back end lining when using it. there's a special pocket behind this lining which allows one to burn long pieces of wood.

"It's easy to change the Grates—just slip the steel buttons aside and out they come. My little boy can change them in a few minutes.

"Ashes cannot miss the ash pan—Flanges sloped inward, below the Grate, guide all ashes into the big roomy pan.

"The 'KOOTENAY' burns any sort of fuel and makes cooking and baking easy! Yes! It's the best range I know anything about."

"TRY-NEW-LIFE" Relieving the Pain of Hundreds Daily

NEW STORE OF THE HAMILTON-BEACH SALES CO., AT 721 YATES STREET, INSTANTLY BECOMES ONE OF THE MOST POPULAR PLACES IN THE CITY

"TRY-NEW-LIFE" SHOULD BE FOUND IN EVERY HOME

It Ought to Be in Reach of Every Member of the Household by Day and by Night

Every home in the land ought to have a "Try-New-Life" machine for the relief of pain, the upbuilding and invigorating of a weak body, and the cure of disease. And the time is near when the home that is without one is the exception.

Free demonstrations at the Hamilton-Beach Sales Company store, at 721 Yates street are good. They are given by trained operators, they relieve your pain and start you on the way to permanent cure, and they prove to you what the marvelous new invention will do. But any number of free demonstrations can not compare with the ease and convenience of having a machine in the house where you can use it at any moment, day or night.

Treatments given by doctors are good. All up-to-date physicians recognize the value of the "Try-New-Life" principle, and nearly all of them have either a "Try-New-Life" machine, or some imitation of it. But the time of a doctor is worth money, and he will charge you for treatments perhaps $5 each—which is reasonable. But think how handy it would be to have your own machine, and you and your family treat yourselves or each other, and not have to dress and go down town two or three times a day—for some diseases ought to be treated at least that often for a time.

Hospital treatments with "Try-New-Life" machines are splendid, and all modern hospitals have them, or at least an imitation of the real "Try-New-Life." But why wait until you get into a hospital to be treated? Why not have the little machine right in your room, day and night, where you can merely push a lever and begin the treatment. Hospital treatments are very costly, and no sane person likes to be in a hospital anyway.

Right in the home is the place for the "Try-New-Life" machine. It is destined to be as common for many ailments as court plaster now is for cuts and scratches, and arnica for bruises. The old-fashioned, clumsy hot water bottle is giving way to the clean, scientific, ever-ready "Try-New-Life" for all purposes. The clamminess of cold feet; the little shivers of a chilly spine; the spooky feeling of nervousness and sleeplessness—they all flee before a few minutes' use of the magical little machine.

If the child cries in the night, whether with indigestion, sore throat, tired legs or nervousness, a few moments of "Try-New-Life" will send it comfortably to sleep.

Rheumatism, and especially sciatica, has a trick of coming on in the night worse than by day. Nothing could be more grateful than to have a "Try-New-Life" machine at the bedside to meet this unwelcome visitor, drive him away, and get a good night's sleep.

Nervousness is the bane of women, and its effects are never more distressing than at night, when, tired out with a day of work or family trials or social distractions, the woman finds herself wide awake and unable to close her eyes.

Then of all times she will be most grateful for a "Try-New-Life" machine The best time of all for such a treatment is when one is ready for bed. The feeling of the soft rubber applicator as it is passed gently down the spine and along the back of the head and neck, the soothing, quieting, restful feeling that comes to nerves and muscles as they are kneaded into repose; even the soft hum of the little motor as the glow of warmth spreads over the body, helps to make one sleepy. And after ten minutes of such treatment one can sleep all night long.

Next time you are down town stop at the Hamilton-Beach Sales Company's store at 721 Yates street. You will find it elegantly fitted up with comfortable chairs and divans to rest on, and courteous demonstrators to show you all about "Try-New-Life" and to give you a free demonstration. After one demonstration you will believe anything that any friend of "Try-New-Life" tells you of its power for good. And you'll want one in your own home.

If your body is lacking in vigor, if you are always tired and worn down, if you are in pain, you are not treating yourself fairly if you fail to find out for yourself what "Try-New-Life" will do for you.

It will take but a moment of your time and not a cent of your money to learn. Take nobody's word for it, but if you are not enjoying the health you should, just stop in at the Hamilton-Beach Sales Company's new store at 721 Yates street, and a skilled operator will gladly give you a demonstration without cost.

The effect of any one of the six different applicators with which the little machine is provided, each for a different use, is wonderful. The treatment allays nervousness, soothes aching muscles, takes away the tired feeling, and seems actually to impart new life to all the tissues. That is where the machine got its name. So many men and women, after a treatment, remarked, "Why, that puts new life into one, doesn't it?"

It does, every time, and for that reason the discoverers of this latest scientific appliance have called it "Try-New-Life." Come in and see for yourself that it does give that vigorous, elastic, springy feeling of renewed life in every part.

More than one of the scores of persons who have thronged the new store since the day of its opening have said:

"I know it will help me, for my doctor used to use the machine on me twice a week; but he charged me five dollars a treatment."

Well, it was worth it. Doctors do use "Try-New-Life" in their private practice, and in hospitals and sanitariums, and they do great work. But if an occasional treatment is worth five dollars, think what it would be worth to you to have one of the little machines right in your home, where you can use it as often as you wish!

Besides, it may be that your doctor has not the genuine "Try-New-Life," which has merits all its own, but has one of the numerous imitations. There is no comparison between the genuine "Try-New-Life" and the inferior makes. Come in to the Hamilton-Beach Sales Company's new store at 721 Yates street, and have a genuine "Try-New-Life" used on you free of cost.

RELIEF FROM THAT PAIN AT ONCE, WHAT YOU WANT

"Try-New-Life" Positively Gives Relief---Come and Be Shown Without Any Cost

Something to relieve that pain right away—that's what you want when you are suffering, is it not? Pain is an awful thing, no matter whether it comes from neuralgia, migraine or sick headache, lumbago, neurities, rheumatism, indigestion or what. Quick relief is what you want, no matter the cause.

Until you stop in at 721 Yates street, the new store of the Hamilton-Beach Sales Company, and get a free demonstration of "Try-New-Life," the new scientific discovery for the relief of pain and the healing of disease, you cannot believe the full truth of what this wonderful little machine will do. Try it once. You will be welcomed, and it costs you nothing and takes but a moment of time.

Something to relieve that pain right away, when you have sciatica, which is a rheumatic affection of the great, sensitive nerve along the inside of the thigh. Marvellous things have been done by "Try-New-Life" in the way of giving relief from this terrible pain. A skilled operator knows just where to work with the little machine to soothe and quiet the shooting pains that make men wince and cringe and cower like children—one who has not had it does not know. Yet a few minutes of "Try-New-Life" has sent them away smiling.

Something to relieve that pain right away is what you want when you have sick headache. "Try-New-Life" will stop the throbbing, take away the nausea, quiet the bursting temples, ease the eyeballs that feel as if they will come out of the head, and give relief in a moment.

Asthma gives way in a moment to the delicate treatment of "Try-New-Life." The blood vessels that have been gorged so that the sufferer has been in danger of choking to death, are stimulated to carry away the excess, the nerves which have been drawn taut and the muscles which have been contracted into knots, are speedily quieted and soothed into their natural calm, and breathing becomes easy and natural.

Backache comes from a number of causes, but when your back aches you want something to relieve it, no matter what caused it. That is what you get in "Try-New-Life." The sensitive nerves are soothed, which takes away the pain at once; and the life forces are stimulated to take up the work they have been shirking, and the cause—whatever it is—has been removed, and your back aches no more.

Something to relieve that pain right away is what you want when you have a stiff neck—and many people have it this rheumatic weather. "Try-New-Life" will do it. The muscles, rigid and cold and set so that it is almost impossible to move the head, are quickly made soft and pliable and painless. The nerves, congested and tender and inflamed, are soothed and calmed and the excess of blood drawn away from them so that motion is no longer painful.

Something to relieve the pain right away—you never wanted it more than when you are afflicted with neuralgia, the cutting, twisting pain in the nerves—the pain that comes and goes over the body as if knives were in the veins and travelling about in the blood. The skin even is painful to the touch, and it seems impossible to apply a machine that would take away the pain and not kill you outright. "Try-New-Life" will do it. However tender the skin, a skilled operator will use a soft applicator—soft as velvet—and under its magic touch the pain will go away in a moment.

"Try-New-Life" takes the place of mud applications in cases of pleurisy and other affections of the membrane surrounding the lung. Instead of having to work its way slowly in as the various poultices do, "Try-New-Life" works directly through the tissues and stimulates the flow of blood freely, helping Nature to relieve the pain and establish normal conditions. "Try-New-Life" is simple, direct, scientific. Try it and be convinced.

Whatever pain you have, stop in for a free demonstration at 721 Yates street, the Hamilton-Beach Sales Company's new store, and see for yourself how quickly you get relief. You won't believe the whole truth until you have tried it for yourself.

The little machines are sold on the easiest terms. A small payment down and the balance on easy terms will suffice for those who do not feel able to pay all at once, and one may be cured while he pays.

HUNDREDS COME TO SEE NEW SCIENTIFIC MARVEL

Men and Women Suffering Pain in Many Forms Are Given Speedy Relief

Cases That Had Defied the Doctors for Years Are Given Instant Ease

Free Demonstration by Skillful Operators is Given All Comers.

Hundreds of people daily are finding that there is quick and sure relief from pain in "Try-New-Life," as given by the Hamilton-Beach Sales Company in its elegant new store at 721 Yates street. Free demonstrations have been given every one who has applied, and "Try-New-Life," the latest discovery of science for the relief of pain and the cure of disease, has made hundreds of friends at the very start.

They began coming the moment the store was opened. Men with arms or legs drawn by rheumatism which had long resisted drugs and liniments and hot baths, were amazed at the relief they found the very first minute. The cold hands and feet were warmed into a glow, the flabby, deadened muscles were stimulated to health and vigor, the stiffened joints were made to work again, and the pain—here is the delightful part of it—the pain was relieved in a moment.

Women came with headaches—the kind of headache that whitens the face with pain, draws lines across the brow and below the corners of the mouth, and puts dark circles under the eyes. They must have believed they could be relieved or they would not have come; but belief had nothing to do with it just so they came, for a skilled operator, working with a soft, velvet-like applicator, soothed the throbbing nerves, gently stimulated the blood vessels to carry away the blood that was gorging the brain, smoothed away the lines of pain from brow and face, and the backache was gone.

Cases of backache there were, among both men and women. Overwork, mental and physical strain, weak kidneys—no matter what caused it, there they were with pain in the small of the back. They could walk, but with pain at every step. They could sit down and rise up, but at the cost of many a pang. They could even stoop and rise up again, but every movement was an agony.

A few minutes in the hands of a trained operator made a world of difference in every one of them. The special applicators made to reach the seat of pain in the muscles of the back went right to the spot that felt so sore, soothed away the pain, and stimulated the muscles of the back so that warmth and vigor and strength took the place of chill and weariness and aching.

Some had gout—that painful, deforming malady caused by the blood leaving uric acid in the form of chalk in the joints of fingers and toes. It was amazing how quickly these were relieved. When treated with drugs and liniments gout is a slow and stubborn disease; but "Try-New-Life" is instant in its effects. Hands that had long been well-nigh useless were given back their suppleness in a few minutes, and the pain was taken away even quicker than that.

"I wouldn't have believed it if my best friend had told me," said one old lady whose stiffened fingers were restored to use. "It is beyond anything I ever hoped for." The old lady was so affected by the relief that she actually shed tears of joy.

"Send one of these machines out to my house," she said. "I cannot afford to be without anything that can do so much in the first ten minutes I have seen it."

Little children there were, who had suffered from infantile paralysis; and there were older persons who had been stricken. Withered arms and legs were warmed into life, the blood stimulated to flow with renewed force through half-dead parts, and renewed vigor and vim injected into muscles which from disuse were wasting away. There is nothing yet discovered which equals "Try-New-Life" for building up a wasting muscle. And it works in a natural way, aiding and stimulating Nature herself to take up the work she has been neglecting.

It would take a book to give the story of all the good "Try-New-Life" did in the first few days it was offered to the public in this city. The list of diseases it has relieved would be a long one; sciatica, indigestion, neuralgia, asthma, lumbago, nervousness, depression—they all found relief. If you have any ailment whatever, come in and see, without a cent of cost, what it will do. Call at the Hamilton-Beach Sales Company store, 721 Yates street.

"TRY-NEW-LIFE" GIVES BEAUTY OF FACE AND FORM

Beauty is Possible Only When the Body is in Good Health.

Smooth skin, healthy complexion, plump neck, rounded cheeks and arms and bust, all follow the use of "Try-New-Life," the latest marvel of medical science. It relieves pain in a wonderful way, but not alone for that is it noted; it aids Nature in a natural way, and whether or not the trouble is painful, it is relieved.

Beauty of face and form depends largely on perfect circulation. By its marvellous stimulating power, "Try-New-Life" brings more blood to the organs, urges Nature to carry away the waste and build up fresh and vigorous tissue.

No cosmetic can equal the bloom of health that comes from using the little machine to make the face smooth and glowing.

No amount of oil rubbed into a lean neck will make it plump and full as will "Try-New-Life" properly used.

Nothing will clear up a muddy complexion, pimples, flabby cheeks, crow's feet about the eyes, lax chin muscles, like this little machine. It works, not through drugs, but by helping Nature to do her proper work. Beauty was meant for women, but Nature often needs help to keep up repairs. It is just this help that "Try-New-Life" affords.

The waist ought to be slender and supple. If it has become too thick, too heavy, too rigid, it needs the tone and vigor and youthful fire that "Try-New-Life" always gives.

Nature meant the throat and bust to be full and round and plump. If they are not, they lack the vital energy that can be supplied by "Try-New-Life," giving them tone and firmness instead of flabbiness and sagging lines.

There are skilled and courteous women operators at the Hamilton-Beach Sales Company's new store, 721 Yates street, always ready to show a woman the new invention, and demonstrate what it will do. It takes but a moment, and costs nothing at all, to know for yourself.

Just So, Your Cured You Don't Care How, Do You?

If you have rheumatism, headache, indigestion, backache, sore muscles, stiff joints—any ailment at all—instant relief is what you want, isn't it? You do not need to take any medicine, to go without eating, nor stand an operation.

Just make it a point to stop in at the Hamilton-Beach Sales Co. store at 721 Yates street and get a free demonstration of "Try-New-Lif" and see if it is not exactly what you have been wanting. Quick relief from pain and a good start on the road to permanent cure is what you get the first ten minutes.

Most scientific treatment in the world for Indigestion.

Curing Rheumatism in her wrist.

Relieving Ringing in the Ears. She Uses the Rubber-Velvet Applicator.

Safe for a Child to Use

"Try-New-Life" is perfectly safe in the hands of a child. It is run by a tiny electric motor, but you get no shock, any more than you do in riding on a street car, or using an electric iron. Come in and see.

Come and See It Tried and Judge for Yourself

You can't believe the whole truth about "Try-New-Life" until you've seen it yourself. Come to 721 Yates street.

FREE DEMONSTRATION IS GIVEN IN YOUR HOME

If you have a member of your family in need of a demonstration to relieve pain or to strengthen or build up any part of the body, and you cannot bring the sufferer to the store for a demonstration, just drop a card to the Manager of the Hamilton-Beach Sales Company, 721 Yates street, and a skilled operator will be sent to your house with a "Try-new-Life" machine and a demonstration will be given the sufferer with no cost whatever, or call and ask for a demonstrator and one will be sent.

DEAFNESS.

This is one of the most stubborn cases to treat, because it requires eight or ten treatments before you notice results. However, one single treatment will stop the noise or ringing in the ear. A remarkable difference can be noticed after the eighth treatment.

Headache and neuralgia can be instantly relieved with one single tratment of "Try-New-Life."

The kidneys can be easily strengthened and invigorated by the soothing, vitalizing influences of "Try-New-Life."

All Who Have Used It Praise "Try-New-Life"

Whenever You Find a Man That Owns a Machine, You Find a Booster.

"I wouldn't take a hundred dollars for my machine if I knew I couldn't buy another."

That is one of the best recommendations possible to give any machine, bu it is what every one of the thousands who have bought "Try-New-Life" machines in the last few months will tell you.

"It paid for itself in a week," said one man. "I know what the doctors and the sanitariums charge for treatments, and I know that my family had use enough—in the first week I had mine, to pay for it more than once."

In the comparatively short time since "Try-New-Life" was given to the scientific world, thousands of the little machines have been sold into private homes. It speaks wonders for its universal success that not a single one of these thousands ever came back and aid he was not satisfied.

The machines are sold under positive guarantee for one year—and they will last twenty times as long with any care at all.

Stop in at the Hamilton-Beach Sales Company's big new store at 721 Yates street and be shown, in a few minutes, just what the machine does and why it is that every owner is a booster.

CAPTAIN WOLLEY AND NAVAL PROTECTION

Gives Forcible Address to the Navy League of Salt Spring Island

The Salt Spring Island Branch of the Navy League held their Trafalgar Day celebration and annual general meeting in the Mahon hall, Ganges Harbor, on October 17. Capt. Clive Phillipps-Wolley (president of the B. C. Federated Leagues) was the principal speaker and other 250 listened to his interesting address. Capt. Wolley in the course of his all too short speech, convinced the audience that the naval supremacy of Britain was vital to Canada. He pointed out that we had in Canada to-day three and a half million square miles of the best unoccupied white man's land in the world. Also that we had $200,000,000 worth of wares upon the high seas every year. We had enough to feed the world; untold wealth in lumber, fisheries, minerals, etc., which would be greedily seized from us by some of the land hungry nations.

If it were not for the protection of the British navy, if Britain were defeated our real estate values, good times, law and order would vanish. He then clearly showed his audience that Canada alone, with its eight million population, an army of 100,000 men and only two small cruisers on the high seas stood no show whatever against the highly trained armies and navies of the other powers. But belonging to a united Empire of four hundred and fifty million united Britons, owing a quarter of the habitable globe and controlling a commerce of £1,600,000,000 no other nation would dare attack her. The result of Capt. Wolley's speech was the addition of a large number of members to the local league.

In the programme which follows the audience with their duets; A. W. Barrington-Foote, Esq., (Thetis Island) brought the house to its feet every time he came on the stage in his inimitable impersonations; Messrs. Julius Hamilton (Victoria) and L. H. Garnett (Cobble Hill), gave great pleasure with their clever conjuring feats; Hilton Swayne (Victoria), sang two patriotic songs in capital style. Stanley Dean in no small way contributed to the success of the evening by accompanying the singers on the piano.

Rev. G. W. Dean, the popular president, was re-elected for the coming year, and E. T. Crofton chosen hon. secretary.

TO-NIGHT'S RALLY.

Local Christian Endeavor Union to Meet—Rev. Mr. Pidgeon to Speak.

Everything points a very successful rally of the local Christian Endeavor Union to-night in the Metropolitan Methodist church. All arrangements have been completed, and a large attendance of members and friends of the union is looked for. Rev. E. Leslie Pidgeon, D. D., of St. John's Presbyterian church, Vancouver, is the speaker of the evening, the subject of his address being "Canada's Demand on Our Citizenship." This, no doubt, will prove an attractive as well as an interesting subject to all young people of the city. Rev. Mr. Pidgeon comes highly recommended as a speaker for young peoples gatherings. This is also the annual business meeting of the union and the election and installation of officers will take place to-night. Reports will be read showing the progress of the work in the city during the past year.

There will be a song service commencing at 7.45 o'clock under the leadership of the president, W. J. Shortt. It is hoped that everyone will make a special effort to attend this part of the service so that there may be a quarter of an hour of good hearty singing. The main service will begin at 8 p. m. sharp. An invitation is extended to the general public to attend, and a good time is assuerd all.

PASSING SHOW

Majestic Theatre.

The show for Monday and Tussday is par excellent in quality. "A Man in the Making" is a dramatic story depicting how a young man, inspired by a good woman's face, grasped the opportunity of the better world. It tells also how the Y. M. C. A. gets a young man out of a "blind-alley" job. "Training the British Bluejackets" shows how great Britain is preparing her boys for service in the navy. "The End of Robespierre" is a natural color picture from the French revolution. This film is not only exceedingly well acted, but has the additional charm of being taken from the actual history of the man whose personality dominated the committee of safety in the early days of the French revolution. It is tragic but interesting. "How Canadians Enjoy Themselves" takes us to the Muskoka lakes in northern Ontario. "Then Karat Hero" is one of the well known biograph comedies and a sure cure for the blues. "Boys Life in the Duke of York School" is a very interesting picture. "The Line at Hogans" is a most amusing comedy.

The Empress Theatre.

Two eccentric gymnasts, Falls and Falls, present a number which vies with that funny act of the farcical gymnasts of the previous week's bill at the Empress theatre this week. Their comedy offering is full of ginger and good acrobatics.

"Duffy's Rise" is the title of a playlet, a delightful little farce, presented by James F. Leonard and Miss Clara Whitney, both of whom have been long identified with Irish plays and players. James F. Leonard is a comedian who has starred in many productions, and he is given good support by Miss Whitney, who was formerly associated with Barney Gilmore and other noted exponents of Irish wit in prominent plays.

With songs and impersonations of leading lights of the foreign stage, that clever English entertainer, Glen Ellison, is making his second appearance at the Empress. Mr. Ellison is an entertainer who is quite a favorite in the London music halls, and his impersonations of many famous stage characters of the European stage form an act which merits the applause it receives.

Pritzkow and Blanchard, the former one of the best known yodlers on this continent, and the latter a sprightly young woman, present a musical offering billed as "A Mixed Affair." Mr. Pritzkow is a well-known composer, and the act includes several songs of his own composition, each offering great scope for his abilities as a yodler.

Howell and Scott, a couple of yiddish comedians, offer a comedy number in which patter and parodies form the chief part.

In addition to the motion pictures shown by the Empirescope, another series of slides depicting the more famous plays in the recent world's series of baseball games between the Boston Red Sox and the New York Giants are being shown.

COMMISSION CASE ON GORDON HEAD SALE

Defendant Says Agreement Was Altered After He Signed It but Loses Case and Pays

Charging that additions had been made to an agreement for the sale of two and one-half acres of land at Gordon Head for $3,500, J. C. Devine resisted a claim made by Cecil H. Lutjley in the county court this morning for $175 commission on the sale of the property. The defendant, however, was unable to sustain his contention that additions had been made in the agreement providing for the payment of commission, and judgment was given against him for the amount with costs.

The plaintiff, a rancher, acted as agent between the vendor and the purchaser and took an agreement providing for the terms of sale to the vendor. In the agreement was a clause by which the vendor agreed to pay the agent commission. The vendor signed it, and accepted a deposit of $100. When the sale was completed he declined to pay the commission, saying he had never understood that he would be liable, and had only agreed to sell on the terms mentioned, because there was no commission to pay.

The plaintiff declared the agreement as presented to the court had been sent to him from the purchaser at Vancouver, and that he had presented it twice to the vendor before the latter signed it. He also maintained that he had understood he was to receive commission according to the agreement. Judge Lampman held there was no evidence to show that any addition had been made to the agreement, and the plaintiff would be entitled to judgment accordingly.

Sidney Child appeared for the plaintiff and J. S. Yates for the defendant.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT.

The sacred concert given last evening in the Victoria theatre was much enjoyed by the large audience which filled every part of the house. The quartette, under the direction of M. Nagel, rendered the various selections in a very creditable manner. Mme. Marie Burnett sang two solos, "Lead Kindly Light" (Pughe Evans) and "The Voice of the Father" (Cowen), for each of which she received a hearty encore. J. H. Ullmann sang M'appari Tutt' Amor" in fine style, his interpretation of it evoking an enthusiastic encore. The same token of appreciation also followed his singing of "The Light Divine" (Theo Bonheur). The address by Rev. Sidney Lindridge was heard with great attention, and was followed with the greatest interest throughout its masterly argument.

SCHOOL GAMES.

On Saturday morning at Beacon Hill the South Park school, champions of the under 14 series' School League, defeated the George Jay school by the score of 4 to 0. Harry Copas was the star for the south end boys, scoring 3 of the 4 goals registered.

The Central and North Ward under 16, teams, met on Saturday morning at the North Ward Park. The game resulted in a win for the former by the score of 5 to 0. The Central school boys completely outclassed their opponents.

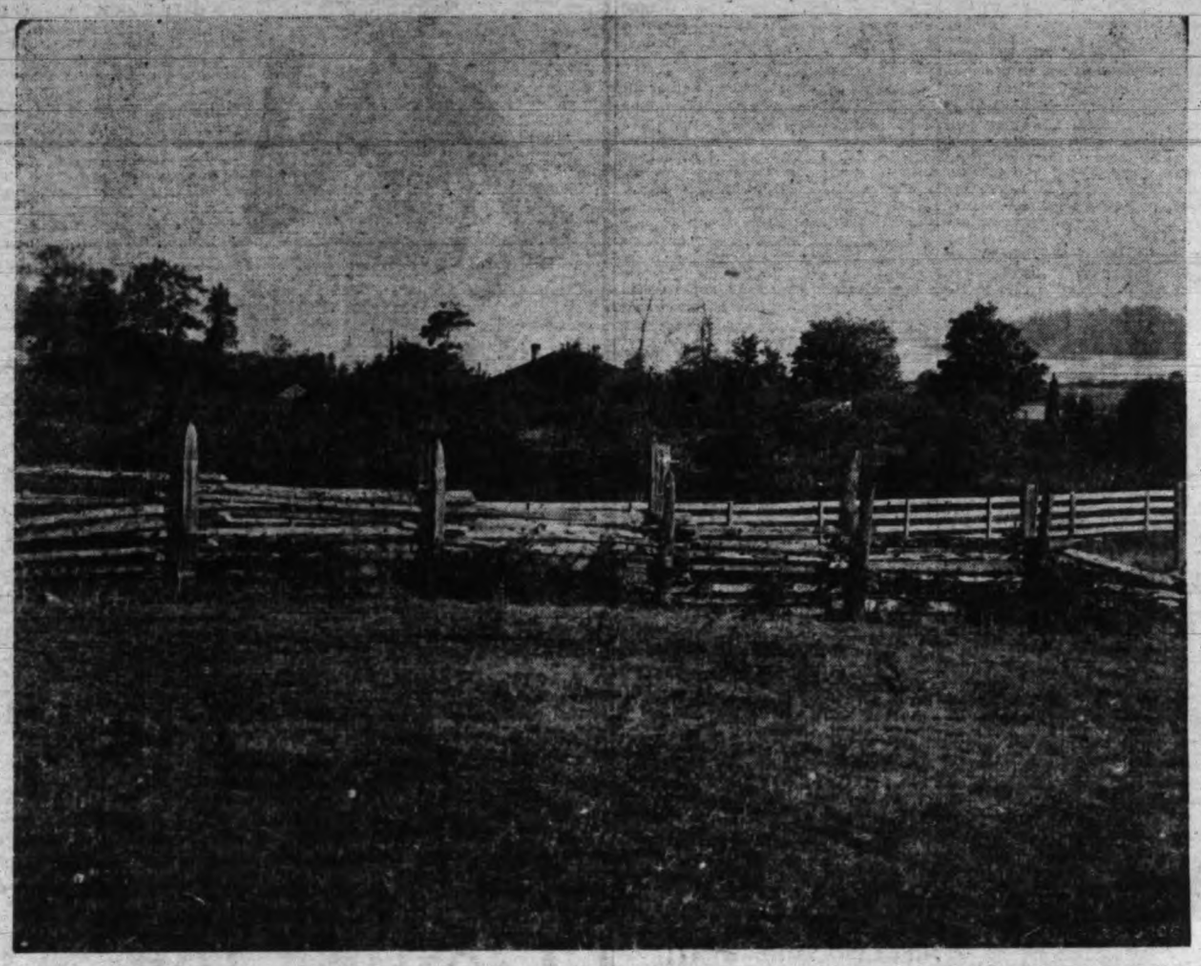
Supreme in Point of Beauty and View

"CADBORO VALE"

No matter where you may look from Halifax to Victoria, across the entire breadth of the Dominion, you will not find such another wholly delightful spot as this. It has been on the market only a few days, and it's selling fast. You ought to see it right away, so that you may have time to select from the widest range of lots.



ANOTHER VIEW OF "CADBORO VALE." THE FENCES MAKE AN UNGAINLY FOREGROUND; BUT FENCES COUNT FOR NOTHING IN THE FACE OF THE MARCH OF DEVELOPMENT.

"Cadboro Bay" Cannot Be Described, You Must See It For Yourself

We dislike the task of trying to convince you of the value of this property, either by print or speech. We can only repeat what one lady visitor said the moment she caught the view towards the Bay: "It's Simply Gorgeous!" What the Poets have written of some of the world's famous beauty spots might well be applied to "Cadboro Vale."

Yet, "Cadboro Vale" does not depend upon beauty alone. There is no more promising investment in Victoria to-day. This property is the very cream of a district that will certainly be Victoria's most sought-after home section. This property will grow steadily more valuable. We promise you definitely that if you invest in a "Cadboro Vale" lot you can sell at a profit if you sell at all.

The lots are third-acres, varied as to character, but all desirable homesites. The views to be obtained are remarkably beautiful. The Bay lies below, beyond is the Gulf, and still farther in the distance the vast Olympics. Flowers bloom first in this valley and summer stays longer here than anywhere else in Victoria. This is a known fact.

Clearing and fencing operations have spared all the fine oak and maple shade trees. There is cold, pure water in plenty.

Transportation is already assured for "Cadboro Vale." A few minutes' walk distant is "Uplands," with its almost-completed car line. Then, only a line fence separates "Cadboro Vale" from the B. C. Electric's new 200-acre park, to which a car line will be extended shortly, passing right by "Cadboro Vale."

The Prices Now in "Cadboro Vale" Are Only $1,400 Upwards, on Easy Terms of One-Quarter cash and One, Two and Three Years

Let us take you out to "Cadboro Vale" to-morrow. You will be delighted, and we won't press you to buy. Takes only a few minutes by motor from our office, and we can start whenever you are ready. DON'T WAIT; DO IT RIGHT AWAY.

WOMAN DRUGGED IN CHINATOWN JOINT

FOUND INSENSIBLE IN DEPLORABLE STATE

Locked in Filthy Cabin Littered With Empty Bottles and Opium Pipes

The presence of a nude woman, drugged, and locked in a small unventilated room in Chinatown on the afternoon of Sunday, October 13, was revealed by the police this morning when the woman, Violet Newall, was presented to the court on a charge of vagrancy. The police told Magistrate Jay that the woman had been too ill to appear in court before this morning, and had been confined in police headquarters recovering from the effects of the drugs she had taken, or that had been administered to her, during the time she was behind locked doors in the Chinese den.

When able to talk the woman said she believed she had been there four or five days where she was found, but was not sure. She remembered coming to Victoria, and believed her arrival here was some days before the police found her. She remembered going into Chinatown, and said she went there for the purpose of finding a friend. From that point she has no remembrance of what happened to her, until she regained her faculties in the city jail.

The room in which the woman was kept is a small boarded-up place on Chinese premises. The detectives this morning said it is about eight feet square, absolutely bare of windows, and containing a shelf about half way to the low ceiling. The woman was found on the shelf in a nude state, and practically insensible. The detectives, after forcing an entrance, wrapped her in a blanket and lifted her down from the shelf. She was then taken to the jail, where a physician was brought to her.

Information of the woman's whereabouts was first given Jailer Macdonald by a Chinese, who told him a woman was locked in a room in Chinatown. An investigation disclosed a bare wall with a door heavily padlocked. The police at first did not believe anyone was inside, but after a few moments waiting they heard sounds within. The door was then broken open, the padlock being forced off with an axe, and the detectives entered what they described as the foulest atmosphere they had ever been in.

Distributed about the floor and the shelf on which the drugged woman was lying were empty Chinese wine bottles and parts of an opium outfit. All the wine bottles were empty. The woman was unable to answer questions, but muttered about bellboys and a hotel clerk. For a week she lay in the jail slowly recovering from the effects of the drugs, and under medical care. When able to talk she said she had a husband who had failed to send her money from Vancouver.

Detectives O'Leary and Carlow said they had known the woman as an opium user, and as one apparently without support, for six or seven years. She was also known to the Vancouver police, and is believed by the city doctor to be mentally unbalanced as a result of the life she has led. Magistrate Jay said he had known of efforts to reform the woman, both by terms of imprisonment and by private means. These had failed. In reply to the city prosecutor's request that she be given a long term in prison to allow her to recover from the effects of the drugs, the magistrate ordered her to be sent to jail for six months.

MOTOR BUSES.

Alderman Collects Data for Use of Special Committee—Legal Opinion Wanted.

Alderman Cuthbert this morning presented to a meeting of the special committee dealing with motor buses further data on the proposed motor bus service, but owing to the absence of the opinion as to the powers of the city to license a company or to enter into the business themselves, it was improbable, he stated this morning, that the report would be ready for the meeting of the council this evening.

At the last meeting of the committee it was decided to ask the city solicitor for an opinion. However, he has gone to Revelstoke to attend the meeting of the B. C. Union of Municipalities. The data the alderman has in his possession covers several cases where motor buses have been in service under various franchises, the cost of construction of same, their operation, and other phases of the subject.

TWENTY-FIVE GREEKS OBEY CALL TO ARMS

Contingent Left Victoria Yesterday for the East—Spirit of Olden Days Still Exists

Yesterday morning twenty-five loyal Greeks, obeying the call of their Fatherland to arms, left on the G. T. P. steamer for Seattle, where they will join several hundreds of their fellow-countrymen from the western states and embark on a special Chicago and Milwaukee train en route to New York. Twenty-five days from now it is expected the party will be at the seat of war. They will catch the steamer for the land of the Hellenes on Friday next.

A large crowd of sympathizers gathered at the G. T. P. wharf to witness the departure of the little band. It was expected at first that thirty would make the journey but some trouble about collecting their wages prevented the balance from setting off yesterday, though they will be ready in case another call to arms is sounded here in the west. Most of those who went off yesterday were unmarried men, while a few left wives in Greece, so that there were none of the affecting farewells which usually accompany the embarkation of troops for the front. On the other hand the company seemed particularly happy and merry, and the waving of kerchiefs was kept up until the boat disappeared round the bend.

Before going on board the men were mustered on the wharf and names checked; what little baggage they carried was collected by the transfer company early in the morning and was placed on board before the arrival of the men themselves. Practically every unit of the Greek population of this city turned out to witness the departure, to give a hearty handshake and a farewell Godspeed to their comrades. There was no demonstration; none of the heady music of the fife nor the beating of drums.

The creation of the contingent is the outcome of several conferences held in restaurants in the city following upon the receipt of a cablegram from the Pan-Hellenic League in New York, and the men knew that they were doing nothing but their duty in obeying that summons. The Grecian government are paying all the expenses from New York, while for the journey to the port, subscriptions and private enterprises are defraying the cost in every city of the American continent. Silently the men are being banded together and mobolized by the Pan-Hellenic League (which is at ordinary times an eminently peaceful institution), and dispatched to the seat of war. There is the same fervor of patriotism animating them as in the olden times when Xerxes and his Persian hordes swooped down on the compact little land whose glories unfortunately have waned with the passing years. But the old spirit is still there and never was a call to arms more nobly obeyed.

REPORT WILL STATE SHORTAGE IN AMOUNT

Specification Quantity of Sooke Waterworks Contract Has Not Yet Been Completed

The report of Consulting Engineer Wynn Meredith, which will be presented through the water commissioner this evening to the city council will state that less than the necessary 45 per cent. of the contract for Sooke waterworks has been completed. This percentage is required from the Sooke contractors at the expiration of nine months, and it is understood that in the opinion of Mr. Meredith the amount done by the company is much less than that figure.

The character of the contract is such that it leaves itself open to considerable diversion of opinion as to the value of the work actually done, and there is no doubt there will be a dispute on this issue such as occurred in July. Large gangs of men have been employed in the meantime, both at Humpback and Sooke, and also along the right-of-way.

There is considerable difference of opinion also with regard to the testing of the pipe laid on the Gorge road. The Westholme company contends that the city's engineers should make the test to see if the pipe laid is satisfactory, while the city submits that in order to show that the pipe is in good shape when this portion of the contract is completed, the contractors should plug up the ends of the pipe and make that test, so that there should not be any delay in permitting the back filling to be done.

While Mr. Meredith is in the city it is understood another attempt will be made to clear up the issue with R. T. Elliott, K. C., about the interpretation to be placed on his remarks made at a sitting of the city council last August. There has been correspondence on the matter, and copies of the letters which passed were sent to Mr. Meredith, so that some settlement is expected while he is now in the city.

WATERWORKS REPORT EXPECTED TO-NIGHT

COMMITTEE ON MOTOR BUSES MET TO-DAY

Some Principal Items Before Council Meeting This Evening

The business before the city council this evening will not be as important as that of last Monday, and it is probable some of the principal items will be left over till next session on account of the absence of the delegates to the B. C. Union of Municipalities.

A report from Consulting Engineer Meredith on the Sooke lake waterworks is expected, in view of the expiration of the third period of three months last Wednesday. Mr. Meredith has been in the city for the last few days looking into the subject, and his reports to the water commissioner have been passed on in due course to the council by the commissioner.

Two committees meet to-day in time for the reports to be in to the council meeting—the special one on motor buses, which has not yet reported since its appointment, necessary data having to be secured, and the usual weekly meeting of the finance committee. There will also be the findings of the fire wardens' meeting of Friday to be reported to the council. Two subjects laid over from last Monday concern a large number of citizens. The proposed transfer of the Victoria & Sidney railway to the Great Northern railway is set for reconsideration, but may not be taken up in view of the absence of some members of the council. The other is the suggested amendment of the streets by-law by removing some of the sections objected to by the Trades and Labor Council regarding street speaking. This is one of those popular appeals to the voting strength of the working men, which are attractive in the declining months of a civic administration, and may be as provocative of debate as was the proposed $3 a day minimum wage for civic employees, which occupied so large a share of attention last year, and resulted in the success of the movement to establish a minimum standard.

Alderman Humber will propose that the fountain at the intersection of Douglas and Government streets be moved to the North Park, the children's playground, which owes its existence largely to the alderman, and the space now occupied by the fountain utilized for a modern public convenience. It always was the intention of the council to establish another convenience, but the location was not settled. One of the proposed points was on Yates street, at the intersection of Douglas street, but the scheme dropped. The causeway convenience cost more than was expected, and was finished just before the old council went out of office. The present council then came into office, and other subjects occupied their notice, the upshot of it all being that the proposition was sidetracked.

Special Selected Whisky of the Corby Distillery is the result of years ageing and mellowing in charred oak barrels at an evenly warm temperature. This "SPECIAL SELECTED" Whisky contains no artificial color or flavor, and is pure—straight whisky, sold in bottles under Government Seal. The sweet, mild, mellow taste is the natural flavor of the ripe old grain from which it is distilled.

It goes furthest and mixes best with mineral waters, lemonades, punches and other liquor. 1W

You can buy large bottle under Government Seal at every first class hotel or liquor store.

WEST COAST DANGERS.

To the Editor—It is now nearly a year since we were all thrilled by the news that the S. S. Tees, of the C. P. R. coasting service had gone down with all hands, somewhere on the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

Fortunately it transpired later that the steamer was safe in Kyuquot Sound disabled, but unable to get news to the outside world. As the season when marine disasters are looked for on this coast is now upon us, it may be pertinent to ask what has been done to render conditions on the West Coast more safe for shipping. After making a round trip on the Tees to Quatsino and back to Victoria, I find that everything is just the same as it was a year ago. There is no lighthouse on that dangerous stretch of coast between Nootka Sound and Quatsino Sound. There is no wireless nor land communication anywhere between Estevan and the north end of the Island, so that if disaster should overtake the Tees or any other steamship around Kyuquot Sound or Cape Cook we should never know what had happened until, perhaps, too late. Surely there is some way to preserve communication intact with the vessels along our coasts. I throw out the suggestion that if wireless land stations are not always practicable, what is the matter with lightships equipped with wireless?

Whilst the reported loss of the Tees was fresh in the public mind, everyone was agreed that something should be done to remedy the existing state of affairs, but things have simmered down, and it is quite possible that it may require another Valencia disaster to bring home to us the fact that the West Coast mariner takes his life in his hand every time he puts out to sea whilst present conditions exist.

In the hope that someone more competent may take up this matter.

MATELOT.

LAND SETTLEMENT.

To the Editor—I notice a lengthy letter in the Colonist to-day re land settlement, which I think deserves the serious attention of those who are concerned in the real development of British Columbia. As Mr. Craddock says, "everybody seems to be puffed up with a false idea of the potentialities of British Columbia, and these will become infinitely small unless something is done to settle up the country with active workers." This is sound common sense, I think.

I speak as a practical man, and I venture to say that with land at present prices and freight rates what they are, British Columbia does not offer a business proposition to the man of small capital, even when that man has practical experience and is otherwise well equipped.

I am not speaking at random, for I am acquainted with the fruit industry in British Columbia as well as on the other side of the line.

The fruit growers of British Columbia are engaged in the hopeless task of fighting ruinous freight rates and extortionate land companies and until these two hindrances are removed fruit growing will remain as it is—a struggling industry best left to those who can afford to indulge in an expensive hobby!

Orchard land companies in the Okanagan are asking $300 to $400 an acre; for raw land; in the Kootenay it is $100 per acre for land with heavy timber and rock! Here on the island it is anything from $200 to $1,000. What chance, I say again, has the man with small capital, say $2,000. Why, sir, there are lots of us here, but give us a show. We are not wasters, but by keeping us off the land you are doing the worst thing to make us so. And so you have the spectacle of young men all crowding the towns, moving round hustling jobs.

Friends at home wonder why their sons don't settle. Friends here wonder why so-and-so is always on the move. And so it goes on. I came to this country because land was at hold-up prices. I find I am still held up. I am a practical fruit man, taking pains to get well posted, but I am at my wits' end to see my way ahead as things are at present in British Columbia. I want to stay in British Columbia, but it looks as if I shall have to do as others are doing, and move on. To conclude, to quote again from the letter mentioned: "There is a time in the tide of this province's affairs when the unfortunate greedy disposition that prevails for selling the land either as sub-divisions or mythical El Dorados—at present at prices ridiculous and absurd—will cease."

Let's hope that time will come soon!

CIVIC NOTICE

RE MUNICIPAL ELECTION, 1913.

The attention of persons desiring to qualify as "HOUSEHOLDERS," or "HOLDERS OF TRADE LICENSES," to vote at the Municipal Election to be held on the 2nd Thursday of January, 1913, is drawn to Section 3 of the "Municipal Elections Act," which provides that "in the case of the holder of a Trade License, or in the case of a Householder, he, or she, shall during the month of October in each year, make and cause to be delivered to the Clerk of the Municipality, a Statutory Declaration made and subscribed before a Supreme or County Court Judge, Stipendiary or Police Magistrate, Commissioner for taking affidavits in the Supreme Court, Justice of the Peace, or Notary Public, in form, and to the effect of Form 1 in the schedule to the said Act in the case of the holder of a trade license, and of Form 2 in said schedule in the case of a householder."

"HOUSEHOLDER" shall extend to and include any person of the full age of 21 years who occupies a dwelling, tenement, hotel or boarding house, who has been a resident in the Municipality from the first day of January of the current year, and who shall, unless exempted by the provision of the proviso at the end of sub-section (157) of Section 53 of the Municipal Act (which exempts certified efficient militiamen and persons over the age of 60 years from paying road tax), have paid directly to the Municipality all rates, taxes or assessments, which are not chargeable on land, which rates, taxes or assessments so paid shall amount to not less than two dollars, due to the municipality for the current year, other than water rates or taxes, or license fees for dogs."

Section 9 of the said Act further provides that "No declaration shall be accepted by the Clerk of a City Municipality unless it be delivered within 48 hours after it is made."

Section 5 further provides that "No person who is not a British subject shall have his name placed upon any municipal list of voters."

Forms of declaration may be obtained and the necessary declarations made at the office of the City Assessor, 2nd floor, City Hall, Douglas street.

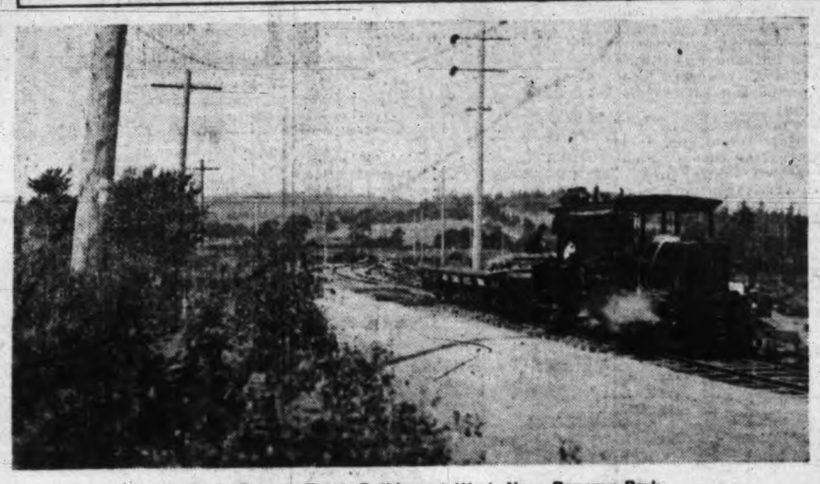
ELECTRIC RAILWAY COMPANY OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED THAT ELECTRIC POWER FOR LIGHT AND MOTIVE PURPOSES WOULD BE SUPPLIED TO ALL RESIDENTS REQUIRING IT, WITHIN A REASONABLE DISTANCE OF ITS SUBURBAN LINE AND FROM END TO END OF THAT LINE EXTENDING FROM VICTORIA TO DEEP COVE, APPROXIMATELY TWENTY-TWO MILES.

ELECTRIC CAR LINE BUILT THROUGH PROPERTY—HOUSES ARE ALREADY ERECTED—SIDEWALKS ARE DOWN—OWNERS RESELLING



B. C. Electric Track Builders at Work Near Panama Park.

Here's the greatest opportunity ever offered the small investor to get right down to cases and put his money in where profits are coming and will continue to come. "PANAMA PARK," first and last, is the most successful, most valuable low-price residential property ever offered the public.

"PANAMA PARK" is situated directly on the new Saanich Electric line and is the same distance from city hall as Oak Bay. Adjacent acreage has been selling for months at $2,000 an acre and higher. "PANAMA PARK" lots are fine, large, level and ready for building, with variety enough to suit all tastes.

Seven houses are already under construction and others are planned. THUS YOU ARE OFFERED A CHANCE TO OWN A BIG VIEW LOT, NEAR TOWN, RIGHT ON THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY, WITH CHARMING SURROUNDINGS, GRADED STREETS AND EXISTING SIDEWALKS, FOR SMALL TOWN PRICES.

CONTRACT LET FOR BREAKWATER

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 18.—The Dominion government has awarded the contract to build the breakwater at Victoria, B. C., to the firm of Sir John Jackson, Ltd. The cost will be $1,800,000.

The firm which will build the breakwater to extend 2,500 feet southwesterly from Ogden Point—the first part of the big Outer harbor scheme to include concrete piers, ferry slips, warehouses and all facilities for modern shipping—is one of the largest, if not the largest, of harbor construction firms in the world.

When Mr. Brooks, Canadian representative of the company, was in Victoria some weeks ago, he stated that if Sir John Jackson, Ltd., was successful in securing the contract, no time would be lost in starting work. Quarries would be opened at once to get out the riprap, and the material and equipment would be assembled as quickly as possible, a large force of workmen being put to work before many weeks elapsed after the contract was let. The work is to be finished within thirty-six months of the notification of the acceptance of the tender — in October, 1915.

—Extract from Daily Colonist, Victoria, October 19, 1912.

Part of Panama Park, Showing Sidewalks

There were 586 lots originally in Panama Park when it was first offered to the public in June last. Since that time every lot but 150 has been sold, 30 per cent. of them in the first week. There has already been one advance in prices, September 1st last, since then 75 lots have been disposed of. Several owners have resold at good profits.

Read this extract from The Colonist of Oct. 19: What this means to Victoria and to the future of the whole of the southern portion of the Island you can infer for yourself. Responsible men declared openly yesterday that it meant nothing more or less than the Government's assurance of the building of the Seymour Narrows bridge. In any event, it means the expenditure of $1,800,000 on the first section of the work of rendering Victoria's harbor adequate to the immense trade that will develop, especially after the opening of the Panama Canal. Taken together with the remarkable and authoritative statement of two days ago, which showed that Victoria is ACTUALLY THE FIRST PORT IN THE DOMINION in point of shipping activity, it is conclusive proof that this city is destined to become one of the greatest cities in Canada. Judge, then, for yourself whether or not investment in first class residential property is a safe investment. "Panama Park" is the best place to invest because the prices are below market and the terms are remarkably easy. But now is the time to do it.

Saanich Electric Line Past Panama Park

The B. C. Electric's new line has already been built to a point several miles beyond

"PANAMA PARK"

The company is under contract to have cars running not later than January 1, 1913.

NOTE!

Three carloads of people who read our ad. in Sunday's Colonist went out to see Panama Park, just to make sure whether there was any truth in our statements or whether it was just a lot of advertising bluff.

The result is that there are just 17 lots less to-day in Panama Park to choose from. Don't put off going to see this property. Make it TO-DAY.

Prices in Panama Park will Positively Advance Again on November 1st, Twenty-Five Per Cent. You may get your lots now at present low prices

Ruptured People---

Try This for Relief and Cure

Here is something you can try sixty days without having to risk a single cent of your money.

Something which has cured—in the last twenty-four years—thousands of ruptured people—

Something so strengthening to the ruptured parts that you can work right along while being cured—

If you don't find yourself getting better after trying a Cluthe Truss or Cluthe Automatic Massager—

If you don't think it's doing you a lot of good—making a new man of you—

Then we don't want a penny.

Try It 60 Days at Our Risk.

This is more than a truss—more than merely a device to hold your rupture in place.

For your protection we guarantee in writing that a Cluthe Truss will keep your rupture from coming out—when you are working, exercising, taking a bath (this truss is water-proof)—every minute of the day. If a 60 days' trial doesn't prove it, the truss won't cost you a cent.

You see this truss—unlike all others—is self-adjusting, self-regulating—

The support it gives automatically increases when there is any sudden movement or strain—as in working—so no strain can force your rupture out.

And, in addition, a Cluthe truss provides the only way ever discovered for overcoming the weakness which is the real cause of rupture.

While relieving the weak ruptured parts of all strain, this Truss is constantly strengthening the ruptured parts.

Does that by automatically massaging them—this healing massage does for these parts what exercise does for a weak arm—restores their lost strength—in many cases makes them so strong that a truss is no longer needed.

Curing Begins at Once.

This massage is so beneficial that nearly all feel better and stronger—get immediate relief—after trying this truss.

So beneficial that a Cluthe Truss has cured some of the worst cases on record—

Among them men and women 50 to 70 years old, who had been ruptured from 20 to 50 years.

Cured many of them after everything else, including operation, had failed to do any good whatever.

Our Expense If It Fails.

You are making the mistake of your life if you let any doubts or past disappointments keep you from finding out what a Cluthe Truss can do for you.

Remember that we ask you to take no chances—

We'll make a truss especially for your case and send it to you and allow you 60 days' trial to prove that it will hold your rupture—that it will put an end to the trouble you've heretofore had and improve your condition. If the trial fails to prove this, we'll be the losers, not you.

Get World's Greatest Rupture Book.

So that you can judge for yourself, we want to send you a free book we have written—a cloth-bound book of advice. Even physicians who have read it say it's the best book ever written on Rupture.

It sums up all we have learned about rupture in forty years of day-after-day experience—in the successful treatment of over 250,000 cases. It deals with rupture in all its forms and stages—explains the dangers of operations—exposes the worthless trusses and the equally worthless makeshifts masquerading under such names as "appliance," "method," "system," "plasters," etc.—puts you on guard against throwing money away on things that can't stand a fair test.

And it tells all about the Cluthe Truss—how little it costs—how it ends constant expense on account of your rupture—how thousands have found this truss as comfortable as their clothing (no springs or web or elastic band or belt around your waist—no leg-straps)—how you can try one 60 days at our risk—thus giving you plenty of time to make sure of its wonderful holding and healing powers and of its water-proof and wearing qualities.

It tells—in their own words—the experience of many former sufferers—gives their names and addresses—perhaps you know some of them.

Book sent in plain, sealed envelope. Write for it to-day—don't put it off—this book may be the means of adding many years to your life and of restoring you to full strength and usefulness.

Just use the coupon or simply say in a letter or postal "Send me the Book." In writing us, please give our box number:

TRADING QUIET IN NEW YORK MARKET

Steel Share the Feature—Railways Have Placed Large Orders for Rails

New York, Oct. 21.—Trading to-day presented many contradictory features. Tendency was downward.

Trading in Steel was conspicuous. There is no denying the fact that the Steel company has been doing a large business. It is expected that their quarterly statement, to be issued on the 29th, will show large gains in net over the previous quarter, and that the Steel market continues firmer, also that a large amount of new orders calling for delivery in the current year have had to be declined. It is generally reported that consumers are offering good premiums for prompt delivery. Another strong feature has been the buying of Steel by different railroad companies. So far it is said orders for Steel rails for the next year aggregate a tonnage of close to 1,300,000 tons, and it is estimated that the blast furnaces of the country are turning out the largest output in their history. However, with these bullish conditions in this great industry and the large crops already made, there still seems to be a general inclination on the part of the public and others to maintain a waiting attitude.

COST OF LIVING IN GERMANY

OUTCRY AGAINST PRESENT HIGH PRICES

Measures Adopted by the Government Fail to Bring Relief

Berlin, Oct. 21. — The government's measures for alleviating the distress caused by the enormous price of meats have failed utterly to satisfy the clamor for some reduction in the price of living. Municipalities and commercial bodies were prompt to declare them inadequate to meet the situation, prices in the European countries from which imports are now allowed under the concessions being in themselves so high that only a slight reduction in prices in Germany can be expected under the most favorable circumstances.

Pressure from the Agrarian parties, on which the government depends for existence, and from the military experts who insist that Germany at whatever cost must be placed in a position to supply its own meat at home in case of war, was too strong for the adoption of the means generally regarded as the only effective one, namely, to render possible the import of frozen and chilled beef from non-European countries.

Conservation of Resources.

A sharp controversy over principles of conservation of natural resources is in progress here in connection with a bill revising and modernizing the laws of water rights in Prussia. It is one of the most important measures which will occupy the attention of the Prussian legislature at its coming session. The bill declares the most important streams in the kingdom to be state property and provides an estimated revenue from the rivers, after paying all expenses of keeping them in order, of from $6,000,000 to $7,000,000 annually.

The committee which has been considering the bill is composed almost exclusively of representatives of the big landholders and has given the measure a form which has called forth sharp protests by imposing a fixed charge for all water taken from the rivers by factories and cities, while the farmers are to be allowed to take free of cost all that they need for irrigation or other purposes.

Commercial bodies are highly dissatisfied with the bill in its present form and a great meeting of protest, attended by delegates from all parts of the kingdom, has just been held in Berlin.

LITTLE CHANGE ON LOCAL EXCHANGE

Prices Throughout List of Stocks Continue to Hold Steady

Victoria, Oct. 21.—The local stock exchange market was featureless to-day, most of the list showing little or no change from Saturday. The Colonial Lumber & Paper Mills, Ltd., have issued their transfer of stock in exchange for shares of British Canadian Wood Pulp & Paper Co., Ltd., as per resolution of the latter, March 1, 1911. The terms of agreement are being carried out as expeditiously as possible, liabilities are being well met, and altogether the outlook for the new company is hopeful.

CHICAGO WHEAT MARKET STEADY

Selling Pressure is Disappearing—Corn and Oats Both Dull

Chicago, Oct. 21.—There was a light change of front in the wheat trade to-day. Instead of unusual selling pressure like that noted recently, with long wheat coming out from all quarters, there was a sort of drying up of offerings and this led to a steadying of the market. La Salle street buying of wheat was in evidence again to-day. A message from a Minneapolis quarter claimed lack of hedging sales. Near the close cash houses claimed milling and export sales of wheat. At the same time it was claimed that Kansas City worked food exports by way of the Gulf. War news was not a feature.

A dull tone was noted in corn futures for the session. New crop months were influenced partly by the cash position and largely by the wet weather predictions for a large part of the corn belt. Shipping sales were limited.

Chicago receipts of oats were large, and shipping business was light. Argentine cable reports liberal increases in oats acreage over last year.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—The option market opened a quarter of a cent higher than Saturday's close and was steady, with a well sustained activity. A source of weakness was the enormous receipts of the last two days, a very large proportion of which were of contract grades. There is a first-rate cash demand for all grades and kinds of grain. Unsettled weather has prevailed over most of the Canadian wheat area, but nothing to more than delay threshing operations a few hours. Receipts, 2,338 cars inspected, 1,200 in sight.

CONCRETE AND FIREPROOF.

New Type of Construction Makes Concrete Construction Cheap as Wood.

A new type of construction to demonstrate the possibilities of reinforced concrete in high-class dwellings, is in process near the entrance of the estates of Great Neck, L. I. Ross F. Tucker, president of the Concrete Products Company, is building two houses to cost approximately $16,000 each. Tucker intends to show that a permanent and semi-fireproof house can be constructed of concrete just as cheaply as of wood, and more economical, stronger, damp-proof, and as architecturally attractive. Instead of using the so-called poured-in process, a concrete hollow tile, which, he believes, is superior to any other type of masonry construction, is being used. One of the interesting features is that all rough carpenter's labor and woodwork has been done away with; even the floor joists of reinforced concrete have been set by unskilled labor. The additional cost of making the first floor fireproof is calculated at about $200. The floor joists are provided with an open nailing strip, and wood floors are laid on that. Insurance statistics show that the greatest number of fires originate in the basement and travel up between the studding in the wall. This construction eliminates this hazard, at a cost that is negligible when compared with the menace and deterioration of wood.

Germany possesses no fewer than 8,000 judges, as against about 200 in England.

CONVICTION QUASHED.

Whether the occupant or the licensee of the Westholme hotel was liable for the penalties imposed for infractions of the Liquor Act was brought before Judge Lampman this morning in the county court on an appeal by Cameron & Clark, holders of the license, from a police court fine of $100 for having sold liquor to a minor, one Hazel Ross. The facts that the girl, aged 19, is married, and that liquor was served to her, were admitted.

The appellants raised the argument that Cameron & Clarke, although the licensees of the Westholme, were not the occupants, as they had under an agreement, dating from the beginning of the present year, transferred their interests in the hotel to Hugh Springer, of Vancouver, and that the latter had carried on the business since then. The license had not been tranferred, but permission had been given at a special meeting of the license commissioners for Mr. Springer to carry on the business.

Judge Lampman held that Cameron & Clarke were not the occupants of the Westholme hotel, and asked why, if the license belonged to Cameron & Clarke, and Hugh Springer was operating the hotel, the latter had not been sued for selling liquor without a license.

The appeal was allowed and the conviction quashed. W. C. Moresby with J. A. Aikman, P. J. O'Reilly and Geo. Powell, appeared for the appellants, and C. L. Harrison for the respondent.

SPECULATION UPON THE C.N.R. APPROACH

What is Meaning of Stakes at North End of Reserve? Dejected State of Property

In about a week from now the Premier is to make his announcement on the Songhees reserve and railway terminals matter. In the meantime people are asking themselves for what purpose stakes are driven at the north end of the reserve, and what bearing they have upon the plans of the railway companies for access to the area. The configuration of the ground at the rear of Jessie street, Craigflower road, and Burleith has suggested a possible entrance for the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway, and perhaps the wish is father to the thought in the minds of some.

No sooner had the public recovered from the disappointment of the banquet speech than new schemes were being devised for the purpose of pecuniary advantage. There is not a possible way between Parson's Bridge and the reserve which has not been canvassed since Sir Richard McBride announced that the company would come in on its own steel to the reserve, and thus brought to an end any expectation that joint use of tracks into the city might be arranged. Whichever route is selected, there must be a certain disturbance of property, and the advocates of the northern route contend that from the physical condition of the land there would be little trouble in handling a railway track in that locality.

The condition of the reserve is such today that the sooner some improvement is made the better it will be for all classes. The deserted Indian houses, some of them collapsed from sheer decay, others still standing, and the air of melancholy desertion over everything cannot fail to depress. These hovels of the past would have been burnt down if the fire chief had not interfered on the ground that the act might cause a conflagration which could not be easily put out, having in view the absence of fire protection in the district.

THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR FIRE PROTECTION

Gorge Road Residents Warned in Case of Fire—No More Trunk Streets Opened

Owing to the condition of the Gorge road, the fire chief has refused to accept responsibility for prompt arrival at the scene of a fire, and public notice is now given by advertisement to the owners that the brigade must be informed, in case of a fire, where the nearest intersecting street is, so that the apparatus can be kept off the road as much as possible. Owing to the condition of the streets it has been found very difficult to make quick journeys to the scene of the recent outbreaks, and this notice is one of the precautionary measures which the chief has had in view for some time.

The trunk thoroughfares which have to be opened this year will be finished when the Gorge road and Douglas street are completed, for it is not the intention to do anything this year with Pandora avenue and Fairfield road, both of which are to be widened. In the former case the expense and delay in securing necessary land held the work up till too late, and in the latter a blunder in the engineering department last year concelled all the work which had been done, and necessitated a recommencement of the scheme. It is not probable that there will be a repetition of the mistakes of the past winter as both engineering department and paving companies have grown wiser by experience, but meanwhile the chief does not propose to take any chances.

CENTENARIANS IN PARIS.

Paris, Oct 21.—Parisians have again demonstrated their love of the aged by the lively interest they have taken in the personalities of the five men to whom the Emperor of Russia presented medals at the centenary of the battle of Borodino, or Moscova. Every one of the recipients was a veteran soldier from that conflict, the oldest being 132 years of age.

It was the same story some years ago when monuments were erected on the battlefield of Waterloo, although in that case few of the veterans were a hundred years old.

In Paris itself the discovery of a man or woman who is a hundred years old leads invariably to the organization of some sort of festivity in honor of one who has seen so much history made and unmade in his time. Every item about the aged person's habits is counted as of the utmost interest. Does he smoke a pipe? Does he drink white wine or red? Are vegetables his diet, and does he sleep out of doors, and bathe more than weekly and in cold water?

The statistics of the city show that within the walls are no less than 15 people who have passed their hundredth birthday and 48 who will very soon do so. Of persons more than 90 years old there are 623, while of octogenarians the Metropolis holds 1,307. Of 70-year-olders there is a veritable army.
